Preface:

The Lovescammer or the modern marriage swindler looks specifically for rather older people who are supposedly lonely, but also have no qualms about destroying an existing relationship for their own purposes. Older and lonely people are more prone to compliments, flattery or pretended love, are more willing to believe and pay for it. There have already been paid amounts in the 6-digit range. If no money is paid or no longer paid, the scammer quickly loses his interest and turns to the next victim. Very often it starts with smaller amounts because the internet connection can no longer be maintained, the phone is broken, the card must be renewed or reissued, money for medical care, visa fees and airline tickets, often before departure still have to pay a fine or tax debts.

According to the internet, scammers earn on average between 4000, - 15000, - Euro per month.

Therefore, you should never transfer or send money to people you did not meet personally, even if you fell in love with beautiful words.

Many often judge too fast that something like that could never happen to them, but read the interview with a lovescender. I can understand when a lonely person falls for something like that.

Introduction:

Fraudsters and marriage swindlers have always existed. Now in times of the Internet, of course, these can encounter a larger number of supposed victims. The loneliness of the people is great. Everyone certainly knows at least one person who is lonely and alone.

Here in this short book I would like to write down a conversation, what actually took place, or while I start with the book still takes place. Anyone who knows me knows how big and firm the love for my wife is, which unfortunately lives a few thousand kilometers away from me and we have not seen each other for years.

How did I get into such a conversation? A friend of mine who lives in Sri Lanka and has just gotten acquainted with the internet, is looking for a serious partnership. Despite some tips and advice from me, he has looked at various dating sites. Often he has asked me to one side or the other, what would I think of it. He has also often added me to such pages on Facebook. For the most part, I've been able to undo this, but apparently not every dating site.

Anyway, so I got a lot of friend requests. Within 3 days over 800. Since I am a friendly person and maintain contacts worldwide who may help me to help other people in need, I had begun to answer the friend requests. Always with the note that I am married and no adventures or partnerships search. Likewise, I have made no secret that I have no assets and have low income.

Many wanted to 2-3 messages that I buy them phone or I-Tunes cards, some clear sexual offers were there, but few really serious requests. There was even someone who was really in need and whom I could help.

But to the actual topic the Lovescammern or, alleged marriage fraudsters. This lady, if it is one, because it is easy to create an account on Facebook with false identity, at least this lady was not confused and began to caress me, let me now and then a little wriggle, or tried at least. Now, just before, I had seen a report on television that took up exactly this topic. It is relatively easy and in a short time possible to identify a scammer, be it through clever questioning or partly with the Google Image Search.

But read for yourself how this conversation actually happened. She from Ivory Coast, speaking French and I with not really good English. The likelihood that she has used an online translator is great, also I have used this partially.

Beginning 31.05 2018

She: Hello

Me: Hi, before you ask. I come from Germany and write books.

She: Books? Really, can I know which ones?

Me: I write about different topics, have only one in English <http://www.xinxii.com/the-2nd-book-of-wisdom-p-362797.html>

She: That's wonderful, because I never had a friend who writes (she used the word ecrivaint) it makes me happy to talk to you.

Me: Now you have one. Maybe I'm not always online, maybe I'll work someday, but I always like to answer when I have time. I do not understand the word Ecrivaint.

She: Writer, you have told that you are a writer.

Me: Yes, but it was a new word for me. I learn something again, thank you.

She: It's just a word from the French, I'm French. But tell me a bit about yourself, in which city do you live in Germany?

Me: I know only a few words from the French, but not enough to speak in this language. I live in Bonn, close to Cologne. My wife lives in my home of souls Sri Lanka. Some bureaucratic problems reduce that I can be there.

She: You are married. This is wonderful and how many children do you have?

Me: I have 2 sons from my first marriage and 5 grandchildren.

She: You're divorced, why?

She: How old are you?

Me: That's a good question! Maybe we were too young when we got married, maybe I was not a good man. I have worked too much and too little time for my wife, so she has looked elsewhere. Many years later, I was in a hopeless situation and wanted to put an end to my life. That's where I met my current wife and everything began to change.

She: I understand and I'm sorry for the first woman, I do not know why she reacted that way, but I'm sure she's sorry but I know that the second one is certainly happy to have a man who is so open-minded and so has a mentality.

Me: She was also young and had needs. When the husband works 18-20 hours every day. I can understand it now. Everything that happens has meaning and serves us to learn.

Me: I'm getting tired now, it's been a long day for me. I started working at 5am in the morning and now it's 10:15pm. I wish you a good night in light and love. I would be glad if I could talk to you later.

She: How old are you?

Me: 58 and good night now.

She: Do not worry, have a very nice and pleasant night. I was delighted to talk to you.

The 1st of June 0:28pm

She: Hello, a good moment to think about how you are. I hope good. I just wanted to wish you a nice day and I know that you're at work, we'll talk later.

3:51pm

Me: Thank you for your wishes, they made me smile. I still have something to do. See you later.

You: OK, let's talk at 7:00pm if it does not bother you.

Me: It's always hard for me to call a date. I try to help someone who would like to die and kill themselves. When she is in balance, I have more time. That's why I may answer later, but I answer as soon as possible.

8:34pm

She: Hello, are you online?

Me: Nice to see you.

She: The same applies to me. How was your day today.

Me: Just like every day. Today I have written a lot of my new book, time for my meditation was enough and people are not in so much trouble. But we always talk about myself. What about you and I will not ask because I think if you want to tell me something, you will do it. But I would be happy to hear something.

She: I can say that I have spent a nice day, even though I will not deny that I will die of desire to talk to you, I know that I am very restless during your absence, and that your presence makes me feel completely healthy. I hope you understand me.

Me: Very nice words, thanks. Yesterday I felt in my meditation that you are a very special and beautiful person and I feel very good when I write to you. It is my learned knowledge to feel souls of others.

She: I am honored by your words and I know that you are a perfect man who only wants happiness, but I hope that this friendship that unites us will not be short-lived because I feel good with a man as wonderful as you.

Me: I will never be perfect because I am a human, but I always try my best. My friendship will last as long as you like, it will remain after I die. My way is the way of a Bodhisattva. I have seen so much suffering, there is not much that will surprise me. From anger, envy, resentment and so on, I have long solved, no matter what happens.

She: I am very happy to hear that word and thank you again for this friendship. You know, I am a woman of words, and I know how I am to my friends. I do not like hypocritical words and when my conversation with a person is based on falsehood and dishonesty, these are reasons why I am alone and without friends.

Me: Words sometimes deceive. It's a question of what someone says and what others like to understand. Always telling the truth makes some people angry or hurting them. I always say what I think without judging anything. Not to talk nice or get something for it.

Me: It's time for my nightly meditation. Maybe I feel you. I will be happy if you write me again. You can always write to me and when I see your message, I will answer. Throughout the day, I sometimes check Facebook. For you a night full of love and light. May you live well in all dimensions and in all places at all times.

Later

She: I think you're already sleeping and I'm sorry I missed your last message for an hour. I can not sleep and I can not have a good night if I do not wish you a good night, which I am doing now, have sweet dreams.

2.06 at 8:03am

Me: Good morning There is no reason to apologize for something. Every day I meditate between 2-4pm o'clock and at night mostly at 10pm for a few hours. Where are you and what time is it there? Now here 8am. Nothing comes too early or too late. I try to be a real friend, I want to hear you, if you tell something and if I know you a little better, I'll hear you when you're quiet.

Maybe someday I can answer and give you some words or ideas, which will be a small change. It depends on you. I will be there if you want. Maybe you are sleeping now and my work is starting. My spirit will be with you. Have a nice day . Sorry for my bad english and my spelling mistakes.

She: Hello how are you? I'm thinking of you right now and I'm in the living room with my grandmother, I guess you have to be at work. I'm very busy today, if you have time, write to me and I'll answer because I'm compelled to talk to you, and do not worry about the bad English because it's not a problem for me at all. Have a nice day.

Me: Hello today I'm a bit lazy with my work, but I'm my own boss and also my coaching for someone is quiet right now. So, I often look today to see if you've written to me.

She: Then we can talk now because I'm always online.

Me: Yes, I would be happy.

She: Tell me a little about your night, how was she?

Me: My night? In my meditation, I travel with my mind to many places or dimensions to get answers or to understand more. Answers to the problems of others, or how there are sick and suffering to heal and charge my battery. A few hours later I fell asleep and did not have any dreams to remember.

She: I see that you are a man with a lot of personality and it makes me happy to know that I am talking to a mature man and I realize to experience a wise man.

Me: I was allowed to learn a lot, especially as far as my spirituality is concerned.

She: I understand perfectly, I could even say that you are a man without mistakes.

Me: About changing reality, healing over long distances, talking to animals or light, sometimes understanding a language I've never heard before. That sounds very crazy. As a human, I also have mistakes, but if you remember the knowledge of the own soul, no one has mistakes.

She: You are absolutely right, once again I am very happy to talk to you, but tell me, how is your wife and children?

Me: My children are big, have their own children and their own lives. My wife (she lives in Sri Lanka) is ok. Sometimes she is sad, just like me, because I'm in Germany and some bureaucrats prevent us from living together. She and I, with a deep inner peace, are nevertheless happy and often we lead our souls in another dimension to meet us there.

She: I am very happy to know that you have a wife and little kids that made a man happy, I understand why you are always happy.

Me: I have no small children, and I am a man who likes to be quiet and silence, without much action. I am always happy because I have found my inner peace, I have brought out all evil to help others, that makes me happy and I know about the transience of all pain and suffering. I have a patience without a border, that makes me happy.

Me: I am like a monk.

She has sent smiling smilies.

She: Anyway, you are a unique man of your kind and I know that your wife must be very happy to have a man with a positive and noble mind. I am happy to have your friendship, I have never had a friend who was always there when you needed him, when something happened that you had to talk about, a friend like you who will support you in difficult moments. I am very happy.

She: I have to leave you now because I have to do chores, but I write later, when I'm done.

Me: Do your job and when you're done writing to me, I'm happy. see you later.

June 2nd 11:13pm

She: Hello, how are you, I'm really bad, I could not wish you a good night, but I'm glad about your message. I hope you had a nice night and you have a very beautiful dream that turns into a nice day that we talk about when you have free time.

03. June

Me: Hello, do not be sad. I know you always want something in my mind. So it does not matter if you write it or tell it. I still have something to do, but I will be free at 4 pm (in about 4 hours). Maybe you have some time after 4 pm.

She: I think I'll be there when you're online, just write me and I'll be there. I will let you work now.

2:51pm

Me: Hi Olivia, I have finished my work for today and finished my afternoon meditation. So I'm online now.

She: How was your day today?

Me: Same as every day. I am always in balance and so there is not much else. What about you?

She: I am in perfect harmony with myself and I make the kitchen.

Me: Harmony, inner peace are the most important things of all. I have closed the door to my kitchen, because a lot looks like work.

She: I understand, tell me what your hobbies are.

Me: My work is also a hobby, meditation, reading, helping poor people and listening to music.

She: I often go to the movies, walk on the edge of the sea and cook.

Me: I have not been to the cinema for many years. I like to sit by the sea and listen to the sound of the waves, but here I have no sea nearby, but when I am in Sri Lanka the sea is not far away. Somehow I like to cook, but for myself ... I do not do much work with it. I wish you a good night and nice dreams, see you tomorrow.

She: I understand, I have to leave you. I have chores and we'll talk later. Thank you for sharing these wonderful moments with me.

Me: All the best for you. We will have plenty of time to talk in the future. Later a night with wonderful dreams for you.

June 4, 12:09 pm

Me: Hello, this is noon and maybe you are about to wake up. So I wish you a good morning and a nice day. See you later.

1:14pm

She: Hello, I'm glad to see your message this morning because you gave me a lot of joy, but you will be at work, then we'll talk about it later, have a good day for you.

Me: So I show that I think of someone.

6pm

She: Hello I'm online now, we can discuss now.

Me: I'm glad to see you.

She: I'm excited to talk to you, but first tell me what your day was like.

Me: My day is always the same. Very busy. There is so much to do. What I can do, I do, the other has to wait. But why are you upset, relax.

She: My day is like this because I have to finish my internship here in Côte d'Ivoire and return to France.

Me: You don't want to go back to France?

She: I would like to, but I have to take the time to complete my internship here, and then I will finally be able to leave.

Me: How long will it take you to finish your internship, and I do not understand the point of the problem.

She: It can take a long time because I have my grandmother here.

Me: At some point we are all in places where we do not really want to stay or we want to be in different places at the same time. Your grandmother may have only a short time to live and you are young. Do not be sad, everything will come to you when the time comes.

She: Yes, we had to come here because my dad decided to come here after retiring, but unfortunately he is not anymore and I am alone in the world with my grandmother, so I will take care not at someone's expense life.

Me: Living in dependence on others is never good. We can not feel free with that, we feel (maybe only inwardly) fear.

She: I agree that once I've completed my internship, I'll be very happy for the time I've done it, just studying in my head and no time for fun, you understand why I'm very pleased to share my friendship with you.

Me: Sometimes we do something because we feel like we have to do it. If something should change, we can feel it. Do not be sad if what we are doing is done or not, our soul knows more about all things and what leads us to all and what will happen. There is no coincidence. I know that my friendship with you will never end. No matter where we are or what happens.

She: I do not know what to say to you because you give me the confidence I need. I needed a friendship like yours and I do not regret that I want to be a friend to you, trust a woman who says you can not live a day without trust, it's good that I see you as a confidant. I see you as a friend, a sincere friend into whom I place all my trust and I want it to be the same for you.

Me: I'm not a judge, I've seen almost everything that happened in the world. I have learned to understand that. Your friendship is something for me that gives me a lot. He gives me strength, meaning, love, peace and much more. It helps me so that the sadness of the world does not flood me too often.

She: I have never been a model of virtue, but when something is lost through my guilt, I hope you accept my apology, I want to find a real relationship.

Me: Some years ago I was a bad man, nobody and nothing will be lost, at no time. Every day we get a new chance to change something and I have nothing to forgive, no matter what. I will be happy when you are happy and my friendship is always there. Yes, people need real partnerships.

She: Happy is not a word that I have to use with you because your friendship is something I can never distrust. It makes me very happy to talk to you, and I could never tire of your words.

Me: I will never tire of answering you. In the last few days, a lot is changing for me. In the morning, I first look here to see if you're here or not, but I know every time I look that you're still sleeping. Aaah, that sounds awful.

She: I know that I can never tire of you, our friendship is a source of happiness for me.

Me: Yes our source can and will never dry out, it is fed by a love that is beyond the worldly.

She: Thank you for those sweet words and the trust you have placed in me.

Me: It's easy for me to trust, because I always hear what my soul tells me and I feel what you give me. Many Thanks.

She: Do you know, I want to know more about you, how was your youth?

Me: What can I tell? I have two brothers and a sister, I am the youngest. My oldest brother went into a life with drugs. My second brother was born blind. My parents were very adorable. Normal school, normal vocational training. At 16, my first big lovesick. Married to 20, two sons, the eldest ill and a few days between life or death. My mother died in my arms a little later. My first marriage came to an end and afterwards I could not see my sons for many years.

Me: I would like to see your handwriting, I want to hear your voice. I would also like to do a little experiment. At some point, when it is a quiet night with you and the sky is clear, look to the stars. Open your mind and let your gaze stay with a star. Do not think about it, just feel and look in your soul.

Me: I know that you have to do something else. But I don't like and can not go without wishing you a nice day and later a peaceful night with sweet dreams.

Note: Sometime early in the morning the next day

Me: I think you are still asleep, but there is such a thing as magic, I would like to wish you a good morning and a nice day.

June 5, 4:35 pm

She: Hello, how are you, I'm sorry, I could not answer your messages because I had a little problem with the connection and I could not see your messages, but I have to study now and I hope that if you do be there later, leave sweet little words like the ones I've just seen. I wish you a nice day, because I think you have to be at work right now, later I'm waiting for your messages.

Me: Yes, I will do that.

6:27 pm

Me: Sometimes you work, sometimes I have to work. I try to change my working time so that I am free when you are free. I will always find nice and sweet words for you. My feeling for you is getting stronger and bigger. One night you will look up into the sky and see the star for our friendship. Something will flow with peace and a non-worldly love, which nourishes here and in you a river or lake, where you can always rest and strengthen.

She: I'm online and sad that I missed you, I hope you're not busy right now.

Me: I will free myself for you.

She: Thank you, for giving me so much attention, and I think I do not deserve it.

Me: Someone has sent you to me or me to you, and that alone shows that you deserve it. But tell me, how was your day today?

She: I spend all day studying and making the house, and you know that my grandmother is old and can not do any chores, I'll do anything for her, and then focus on my studies, you know.

Me: Yes it was a stupid question from me, sorry. But how late is it with you now? Here in Germany now 10:25 in the night.

She: 8:30 pm

Note: Now it came to a misunderstanding because I translated incorrectly. I've been lying down, so lie down, especially because the "down" lack was confused with the word lie.

She: When do you lie?

Me: 8:30 pm? Well, there are only two hours difference. Then my good morning greetings always come to late.

Me: You think I'm lying? Why? I never tell lies.

She: That's not what I wanted to say, it's just like when you told me it's late for you in Germany that I thought you were going to lie down.

Me: Aah, that's how misunderstandings come together. In the morning between 5 and 6 o'clock I start my work and at 10 o'clock in the evening I get tired then I usually go meditation for 2 hours. But for you I try to change it. To stay here longer, and to sleep a bit longer in the morning. Sorry, I misunderstood you.

Me: I hope you accept my apology. I am going to meditate and sleep now. I'm trying to send you a dream that will bring you into a very beautiful silence and a peaceful place, a place where your dreams come true. Good night, I hope you're not mad at me and I'll see you soon.

JUNE 6, 00:44am

She: No, I'm not mad at you and I do not think I'll be one day.

She: I think you have to be in bed at this time, so I want you to have a very nice and quiet night, and I hope I can find some good news from you to make sure my day's will be pure and clean, sleep well.

7:19am

Me: How can a day begin more beautifully than with a heartfelt smile that has brought your message to my face this morning, so I want to give you that smile. May it be with you all day and everywhere. Good morning, have a nice day.

Note: Sometime at noon.

She: Hello, how are you, I'm alive and well, seeing all the attention of such a wonderful man, I wish you a nice day in peace and we'll talk about it later.

Me: Thank you for being there. I take a little lunch break and then go to meditation. Have a nice day, see you later.

She: Ok, do not worry, take care and have a nice day.

Me: Some pictures do not need words. (I have sent a romantic picture)

Note: Evening.

Me: Before I go to my meditation and before I sleep, I want to send a few words of my feeling. With my energy I want to put a protective cover around you, which will accompany you everywhere and protect you from all risks.

Me: I want to give you my energy so that you are always happy and happy everywhere. Have a wonderful and peaceful night with the sweetest dreams possible.

Note: Later in the night.

She: I enjoy these beautiful and sweet words that you send with your heart. I do not know what to say to you to thank you and show you my friendship, with these words, with your sensitivity, you have proven to me that there is a place to complement each other. We can be friends that we can rely on throughout our lives. I will not get in the mornings tomorrow, but I will be able to talk to you. I want to give you time. I would like to wish you a sweet and beautiful night with beautiful dreams, until tomorrow.

7th June 7:07am

Me: A sunny good morning, no matter how the weather is outside. No matter how much time we have right now, our friendship is timeless and not tied to places. My body is bound to one place, but the soul is free and can be everywhere, so part of my soul is always with you. It does not matter if I get something for it or not, if I'm allowed to touch your soul. Let me sweeten your day with a smile from my heart. Have a nice day. Thank you for being there.

1:14 pm

She: Hello my dear and tender friend, how are you this morning, I hope you spent a very nice night, I slept like a baby, with all those beautiful messages you have sent me, your care me. I wish you a nice day write me when you are online.

Me: Hello, it's presumptuous when I call you angels. I slept little last night and invested a lot of energy to help someone whose greatest desire was to die. But that does not matter. My words are not enough for all that I want to tell you. Our eyes are not enough for all that I want to show you. You are my muse, my inspiration, driving me to peak performance until I sink exhausted, but then a smile of yours that I see in my head, to feel the full power of the universe and to absorb enough of it, is enough.

Me: See you later, have a nice day.

5:51pm

She: Thanks again for all those sweet words. You are so wonderful that I have no word to thank you. I get to know you and I discover how you really are. I think you are right and very nice. I like your way of talking to me, your kindness, you are so good to me, you are respectful and I like talking to you, in you I discovered a being that I consider exceptional, a being that allows me to be myself and I trust you, we can share and I thank the life that our paths have crossed, thank you that you are on mine.

Me: I am like a mirror, what you discover in me or discover through me is your true nature. I am also grateful that our paths have crossed. There are no coincidences, everything should be like this.

She: By your side, I would resume life, I would re-learn the definition of certain words such as trust, sharing, sincerity, love and faithfulness.

Me: I'm sure you'll learn this new as well as I've learned, and I'm glad I can give you back a little bit of what you think you've lost.

She: You are a truly wonderful man who really deserves to be happy with those who appreciate you and love you especially for eternity. I will never be able to thank you so much for being so patient and reassuring with all the qualities you show every day, all your friendship and you gave me the chance to regain confidence in myself and I am happy that you came into my life.

Me: I am just a simple and modest servant and as I said there are no coincidences. It is my destiny to be there for all who need me. To fulfill this task a little bit is enough for me. Everything I do is unconditional because I want to do it.

She: I agree with you. Can you cook?

Me: Yes, I can cook. some german meals and some from Sri Lanka. I wrote a book about food in Sri Lanka and how to cook it.

She: The food I love, I know the European cuisine, American, African etc ... and know how to prepare it, I even like many things in life. I eat everything, but I'm not greedy.

Me: I do not eat fish or meat from animals that were slaughtered because of me. I really like the spicy food. From time to time I do not eat anything for a few days to purify myself mentally.

She: Which sports do you practice?

Me: Because of my spine and a vascular disease, I do not do sports anymore. I used to play football and cricket and did a lot of self-defense.

She: I often swim, jog, drive my mood somewhere and I love to ride.

Me: With my first wife I had two horses.

She: Do you like going out, tell me, what are you doing in the evening?

Me: Where should I go alone, here is no sea or beach. I have already said that I am ready for those who need me. When everything is quiet, I like to listen to music or watch music videos. meditate something. or I like to cry too, to wash away all the sadness that accumulates.

She: I like evenings and nights with friends and family, restaurants, concerts, theater, cinema, but I have no friends, only you and I have no family anymore.

Me: You're young, I did all that before. Now I like the quiet things and places more. With my spiritual knowledge, I feel all the vibrations, moods, feelings of others and in some places with to many people everything is too loud for me, the vibrations overflowing too much.

Me: I like sitting quietly somewhere without thinking of anything and watching what animals come when I'm very quiet and what they do.

She: I see and I think it's mature, but tell me you've met on the net yet?

Me: What do you mean? I did not really understand that, met already in the net?

She: I ask you if you've met a woman you loved?

Me: I think you're talking about the normal love of man, not about spiritual love. No on the net I have not met a woman in this direction yet. But now I'm not really sure.

She: What do you want to tell me, you are not sure anymore?

Me: What do I want to say? Maybe I'm just starting to love someone.

She: But the distance with the one you start loving does not bother you, I do not know, but maybe she's not in the same city as you.

Me: I love my wife, she is 8000 kilometers away, at the same time I start to love someone who lives maybe many thousand kilometers in the other direction. Love has nothing to do with distance.

She: I think that in love, age and distance do not count, because if you love a person, you are ready for anything, even if she lives on clouds.

Me: I agree 100%.

She: I'm glad you agree with me, because a woman needs a man who can take care of her in any case, and I know that with all your quality of gentlemen you'll know how to take care of a woman.

Me: But it's hard to love two women and make both happy. If a woman who loves does not feel the presence of others, she can be happy with it? I do not want to hurt anyone.

Me: In my life, many women have injured me, in my life I may have hurt many. What do people know about real love when they are young, so they can stay together even in bad times? Not much, I understand that. With all my suffering and hatred, I came to a point where I wanted to end my life. At this point, I met my wife and I was still bad, I thought, spend a wonderful night with her and die tomorrow. Then everything began to change. I changed step by step.

She: A woman needs attention, so you have to be attentive and do not leave too much to herself so that you are the one she needs, with whom she wants to speak. I say that you are the perfect man because I know that you will never be able to leave a woman in distress who loves you.

Me: I am certainly not perfect, but attentive and I try to read the soul. My wife in Sri Lanka had previously had many bad experiences and brought me the patience and understanding I needed. Let me have my freedom until I decide. I know that I can never leave you or disappoint you. But I also want to give it to someone else and it seems impossible to me. As Johnny Cash sings in Hurt, "I'll find a way."

She: Tell me, what do you like about a couple?

Me: True listening, honest speech, no judgment, perfect harmony, deep trust, laughing together, crying together, being there for each other, giving the freedom that everyone wants and needs, but also willing to take what the other one is, if possible, do nothing that the other person does not like, even if you like yourself.

She: What I like about a couple who just started a relationship is trust in each other. Without trust, the door is open to the mystery of the little lies that steal and destroy trust in the other person !! I do not like that at all. To trust is the most important thing for me.

Me: Yes, lack of trust will destroy everything, but trust must also grow, people make mistakes and one should not allow mistakes to destroy trust, so forgiveness is important too. I am convinced that there is the right partner for everyone, that all other relationships are only for learning. The partner must have the freedom to decide if he wants to give his love. My love, at least what I mean by that, will not change if the partner makes mistakes, even if they are very painful for my own ego. The partner or the love must never be a possession, it should always be a gift.

She: I've never been married, have no children, I think I've already told you. Just two years ago, I tried to live happily in a relationship with a man who knows what the woman is and knows how to get life right, a man who knows what love is. I already had two adventures, but that did not bother me, the second, the one to which I was attached, finally showed me the height. But he too was disappointing, like all these men whom I trusted and showed what I liked. In the end, he was with one of my friends, so I had to leave him in the face of my extreme disappointment, he was French and my second man, I never saw him again, so I'm now without a man for 2 years, so I decided to move on to look for the man of my life on the net.

Me: Yes, you already told me a bit. I know that somewhere right and perfect is waiting for you. The next person you trust will perhaps lead you higher, and he may need to leave again for another to lead you higher until the soulmate reaches you. This will accompany you over several lives. (I live in the certainty of being born again.) How happy must and may the man be who lies at your feet.

June 7th 10:10 pm

Me: Before I go to meditation, I want to give you a few more words.

Me: I fool, who dares to dream of you, to enjoy the beauty of your soul and to drink of its sweet nectar. I fool, how can I think it's worth it, and yet I can not help it. How infinitely happy must the man be who lies at your feet, how infinitely happy I can be. Even if I can not keep the magic of the beautiful moments, they are forever burned in my memory.

Me: I wish you a night in light and love, and I know this night, I'm a fool.

8th June

Me: Good morning, my dear friend, hearts are never silent, always crying and screaming for a heart that beats in the same bar, unless they have found it, then they whisper caresses. I wish you a nice day with everything you wish.

Me: Hello dear Olivia. I wish you only a nice evening and later a peaceful and wonderful night. Some words from my book: We do not die, we only change our state of being. We were at the beginning and in the end we will be just like everything because we are everything.

K.Wirtz Bodhisattva

June 9th

Me: Allow me to wish you a good morning and a nice day. Even today, my thoughts are with our friendship. May your yearning attract the right partner for you, like a magnet, or how light attracts all life.

11:27 pm

Me: Allow me to greet you, I do not know if you still like me to write to you. so I'll wait for a message from you first, because I'm never going to press you, maybe I said too much a few days ago. I have in the dream read an answer from you, which was not to be found here, of course. But no matter. Have a peaceful night in light and love. May all that you imagine come true.

Tuesday 2:09am

She: I miss you a little. I even believe that you can say that I often miss you, sometimes a bit to much and even more every day ...

She: Happiness is always there when I know that you are in my thoughts. I'm sorry I was not online for a few days, but I had a connectivity problem so I could not connect, but I'm happy to see your messages, even though you did not get me to know you yesterday you worry about me and that you think of me. I'll let you sleep and make the most beautiful dreams, leave me a message tomorrow so I know you've seen my messages.

Sometime in the morning:

Me: I do not know how many times I've tried it now. I begin to write and erase it, because I somehow think about my words, begin to judge them, which I thought I would have laid down years ago ... instead of just letting my words flow. I judge by my words. I am very aware of what words can do and what power they have. I teach about it. Once words are said, you can not retrieve them. Do I have the right, "now it gets a bit complicated and maybe confused" Do I have the right to fulfill your inner desires and maybe trigger them? Yes, I have thought of you a lot, but here too I can not and will not judge whether it is perhaps to much. Do I have the right to show you what I feel, what I desire, even if it hinders your desires. Do I have the right to lose control of myself for years? I started writing and erasing and over and over, but now my words are starting to flow again (forgive me) and in the end I will know what I wrote. You said that you wanted to let me sleep, but I woke up at about the same time you started writing, or at least the same time you were sending those words.

Me: I do not know if you knew who I meant when I said I love someone who lives far away in the opposite direction of my wife. I do not know if I've correctly interpreted your answers or seen something in them that I wanted to see. It does not matter if you do not answer me, for whatever reason, as long as you're fine. Should I say that I was worried about you, where I felt and knew nothing bad could happen to you? Should I say that it is my longings that make me think of you again and again? I do not know what to say (again the beginning, where I judge about myself and my words) Regardless of how you think about it, I manage to change the reality, but here with you and what I feel seems It is almost impossible, though everything is possible, everywhere. Do not be mad at me, that I behave like a fool again, that I lose control again and talk about where I should perhaps be better silent.

Me: I do not know if I can find a way to you and I do not know the true story or the whole story of Romeo and Juliet, but you inspire me to read it. All words deep inside of me that can be summed up in three little words. I will never stand in your way, at least it is my wish. I want to fulfill your wishes and you will be happy and forever. But I can not decide for you or say what makes you happy, even if I know it. No matter what you do, my thoughts, my desires, my strength and energy, my friendship and my ..... (I leave it to you to use the right word, may it help you to do the right thing, you you are always with me, sleep well and protected.

She: Hello how are you?

Me: Hello, I'm always fine. What about you?

She: You know, I am a real woman and a conscious and imperfect person who respects differences and has many moral and social principles. I do not trust the appearance, he is often misleading. I am not interested in wealth, because it will disappear. I am looking for someone who laughs because it needs a smile to make the sad day better. I'm looking for someone who makes my heart laugh and dance, to be beautiful and to be loved just to be a woman.

She: I'm fine, thanks, I just saw your messages and I have water in my mouth.

Me: Before I answer the long message, I want to ask you, why do you have water in your mouth?

She: Just because it's been a long time since anyone said such beautiful words to me and your messages make me smile again, that's why I say I have water in my mouth.

Me: I feel a little bit scared, a nervousness. Feelings that I did not have for many years, which I thought I would let go forever. It was not easy, or maybe not difficult (I do not know) to say what I said. But I could not stand still, I might want to give you something that you like on the one hand, but might bother you in the light of your plans and your wishes. I am like a little child who has discovered something new.

Me: I always respect the others. Other beliefs, other wishes or anything else. I never try to change a person, because this is impossible with the eyes of love, with me everyone can be like him, I do not judge in good or evil, for me there are no mistakes and therefore no guilt or innocence. I was allowed to look beyond the true curtain and learn to understand, as it sometimes seems, the transience and what remains. No matter who or what you are, you can be an alien, but you have touched my soul, left your mark on my soul, and I make sure no dust touches those tracks.

She: Finally, I will say that all suffering can be forgotten when the grief of friends is shared and the friendship improves. The inclination of the instinct is indefinite .... The choice, the preferences, the personal attachment are the work of the lights, prejudices, habits; It takes time and knowledge to make us capable of love, we love it only after we have judged we prefer it only after comparison. These judgments are made without our being aware of them, but they are still real. This choice is often opposed to reason.

Me: Suffering does not exist, suffering is an illusion and our belief in it makes it a perceived reality. Yes, we humans judge, we are already being trained as a child, that is bad, you can not and much more, after these trained judgments we experience the experiences we make, how we evaluate them. If we succeed in suppressing all our thinking and letting the soul speak, we approach reality, the true truth, not the imaginary truth. Tonight, the answer was difficult for me at first, because according to my words and feelings, I judged according to your wishes, even in the middle of it, I had to interrupt briefly to get into a state of consciousness free of these judgments.

Me: My hands are shaking, my whole body is trembling, vibrating right now.

She: I still believe in love, and I see no sense in not believing in what gives our hearts enough happiness and allows us to live very happily.

Me: Love will never leave us, though sometimes blinded by the circumstances, we are born of pure love and will become pure love again.

Note: Olivia has your nickname set to "Peter Dalton".

Me: If everyone could live in pure love, there would be no wars, no misery, no fear, no jealousy and no more lies.

She: But are you ready to start or start a romantic relationship?

Me: Peter Dalton?

She: Yes, I like that name because it was the nickname given to my father when he arrived here in Ivory Coast. I hope you do not mind.

She: If the name bothers you, tell me and I'll change it.

Me: A good question, are you willing to accept that I will always love my wife, that I will always help her. I am ready to let everything happen, what should happen and let go what should go.

Me: It fills me with joy and also with pride. I will try to honor that name. Thank you for choosing him for me.

She: Well, I'll gladly share my life with you, but I want you to always be there for me, as I said, that I love it when my husband thinks of me and fills me with happiness, the rest does not disturb.

Me: I do not know what the future holds, at least not what will be in a few years. I know that I love you just as I love my wife. I will never leave you, just as I can never leave my wife. I will always try to give you everything I can give to make you happy, from far or near, I will never hide you and never deny you. I can promise that.

She: Given that we have expressed our point of view about love, I would like to discuss it with us and talk about trust, because without it, it is not about love, right? For me, the trust is to believe in "honesty, integrity, sincerity, and faithfulness, that is, to someone who does not choose the" secret ", which he or she would not tell the others, especially not to doubt his spouse to let the more confidence is acquired, the more will be won, what do you say to that?

Me: Through my inner peace, I am not in the position to lie, I hope I could show you. I will never deny or hide you from my wife. It's not about getting or winning, even if you're one of the biggest prizes you can get. Honesty is one of the highest estates and trust can only be based on honesty. I do not judge what everyone is doing, I have to be able to see myself and others in the eyes. Words and actions may deceive, but in my eyes you can look into the deepest mystery of my soul and love will know what the truth is.

She: We are often self-confident that life becomes better after marriage, after we have one child and then another ... We have heard that our life will be complete when things get better for our spouse, if we have a nicer car or a bigger house, if we can go on vacation, if we retire ... The truth is that there is no better time to be happy in the present moment. If not now, when would it be ...? Life will always be full of challenges to reach and finish projects. It is best to admit and choose to be happy now that there is still time.

Me: Socrates said: "The more I realize what I really need, the closer I come to the gods who need nothing." I do not need a car or a nice house, children are given us, they are a part of us, but I love now, whether children or not. Somehow I do not find the right words. The past is over, the future is not there, we can only live in the present. I am now. For me, only that exists now. Of course I also think about tomorrow, I wish and plan, but that will not bother me. I'm not worried about tomorrow, there's plenty of time tomorrow. I actually let go of everything so that everything can and will come to me voluntarily. I meditate a lot and could learn to understand. I was allowed to visit the source of all origin. I do not know if you know or believe in rebirth and reincarnation, it does not matter either, but there, at this source, I learned what true love is, regardless of situations, objects, or even living things. It's a gift that I want to share with you, share more deeply than any other. I want to drink with you from this source, so that we will never again attack things that cause suffering.

She: For a long time, I thought my life would finally begin. True life ! But there was always an obstacle on the way, a problem I had to solve, an issue that was not yet completed, a time to spend paying a debt. And then, life started! ... until I realized that these obstacles really were "my life". This perspective has helped me to understand that there is no way that leads to happiness. Happiness is the way .... And we spend every moment that we have, and even more, when we share that moment with someone special, enough specifically to share our time, and that we remember that time do not wait ...

Me: Is the way the bliss, or is the happiness the way, is it at all, or is it just a remembering, recognizing what is in us, is it even happiness, or does it only know the true love that is? in us. Way, happiness are words with which we want to describe something that one really can not describe. Likewise, the time, you are suffering or waiting for something, it is something that goes much too slowly. If they are beautiful moments, they fly way too fast. When you are in the inner center, time does not exist, neither fast or slow. Much is subject to transience, but nothing is really lost, but only changes to another form. It is as if I have found another part of my soul as I am part of your soul.

She: You have everything a woman wants, beauty and heart pure, and the attention a woman demands from a man, and if your heart is so beautiful, I'm afraid I'm going crazy about you. I am very faithful little prince, nice, sweet and I like hugs and love very much as you want. But I warn you, if I love, I give a lot of love, too much even.

Ich: Can you give too much love. If your love kills me, I will die with joy. With me you can always be who you are, I will gladly take what you give me and I will give everything I have and you can take what you want.

She: In you I discover a world of comfort. In you I discover an immense happiness, a gentle refuge, in you I find what I have been looking for ages.

Me: Since yesterday I understand, I know what we have found each other. A friend of mine looking for a partnership has visited dating sites and asked me what I think of it and like this. He has also added me in some groups. And one of these pages probably portrayed me as searching. And since I ignore nobody so easily ... But there are no coincidences, everything happens as it should.

Me: I want you to travel with me through all universes and galaxies. These are not just words because I know it's really possible. Our souls are not tied to words, they can travel anywhere outside the body. I want you to create stars with me, that together we can see how stars are born.

Me: How many times I look and read your words, how often do I keep absorbing them? I should and wanted to work, but I am not able to, and I probably will not sleep tonight because my heart beats too fast and I want to show you so much. I do not know if you will read my words today or later or tomorrow. It's possible that you feel something, like the one that is standing next to you and gently hugging and holding you, or that is lying next to you, quietly watching your beauty and enjoying it while watching over you. So, if you feel something, be sure it's me and you do not have to be scared. How much I love you and how happy I am, that I dared to dream like an idiot, and these dreams came true. I will retire now and I will see you tonight. I do not need place names to find you. My soul and soul are connected and I just have to follow this band. If I stop writing now, I long for the next morning to look at your words and write you again. Sleep sweet and protected. I love you.

Me: Hello my angel, you're probably still sleeping. I do not know if my thoughts reached you yesterday and at some point I fell asleep. I dreamed a lot about you. I do not know if your heart has heard all the caresses that my heart whispered to you. But I am convinced that my words, my caresses reach you on a higher level. Likewise I would like to tell you that I have never said all of my loving words in that fullness and in this form to anyone else. They should belong to you and us alone. Only you have allowed me to let these words flow like that. You are my muse that inspires me. I'll go into the bathroom and try to start my work, even if it's hard for me, because maybe I'm sitting at the computer, taking turns watching your words and pictures and daydreaming. I do not know if you understand how deep and honest my love really is for you, because I do not know it myself, because I have not found a limit and probably will not find one, because there are no limits to infinity. I wish you the best possible sleep, the best wake-up, the best start to the day. I long for the smallest smile, for the smallest thoughts you will give me. I long for the moment to write to you again. I do not long to send you my love, I do it with every breath. My e-mail inbox is full and I have to start my work. But soon, very soon I will write to you again because I can not help it. I love you.

Me: I know you still have not read my messages, but time for me to send you one more. This time I want to share with you a video and a song that I really like. I know I can not stop sending you something, but now I'll try working again.

Note: I send a link to You Tube Video: Mariah Carey - I Want To Know What Love Is.

She: When I met you for the first time, I did not think that you would change anything in my life, it starts with glances and exchange of little sms, you are the sweet words that have brought me down. I tried to resist your charm, but I can not do anything, my love is too big, the more the days pass the more I am bound to you more and more, my heart beats faster, when I think of you as the only one who is the only one who fills me, without you I am lost, you are my strength, my angel, I want you and I love you more than life itself. What happens, what happens, you are and you become always the most beautiful gift of my life ... Every moment, every second that you spend with me, is the absolute happiness, nothing and no one in the world could take your place in my heart, I love you and I adore you more than everything else, you are my precious treasure, I hope to be able to give you everything that you expect of me, ... you fill me with love and joy every day. I see your news in my wake and before I fall asleep, my angel, ... I love you very much.

Me: It's not the love that hurts, it's the yearning, it's not the love that's almost unbearable, it's the boundlessness that love has. I do not know what to say, my words are insignificant and small in contrast to what I feel and want to say, how can you describe something in words for which there are no words. Love and feelings are independent of words, they do not need them. I can not eat because I'm starving too much for your love. I can not drink because I thirst too much for your love, can not move because your love has bound me, with invisible threads that can not be torn or destroyed. For many years I live in a perfect inner peace, nothing could shake that peace until now, but I long to leave that peace to fetch you and return there, with you by my side. Maybe it would be possible to live without you, but I do not want to live without you. Without you in my life there would be a void that could never be filled, Thank you for being there and thank you for meeting me and thank you for listening and hearing me.

She: Since I am with you, my sweet love, I have finally seen the vehicle, you bring happiness and warmth into my heart and I am in joy and bliss. A moment without you is hell, a similar moment nothing. I love you and am so happy that you will be the man of my life one day. I hope with all my heart and it fills my heart even more, you are my life, my happiness, my breath and my heart beats only for you angels of my heart. Since yesterday, I'm just thinking of you and feeding me with your sweet words I do not know what's happening to me, but I think I'm happy because I've finally spent my time looking ahead, you're the joy I have been searching for so many years.

Me: Maybe we were both not ready for our love yet. We have grown, each of us, until our life has met and united. I know we will continue to grow together immensely. You fill me with the light of your eyes, even if I do not see them or when I close my eyes, I feel your light, your shine and it penetrates me into every single fiber and cell of my body. Whenever I think about you, I'm shaking all over and I'm always thinking of you. I only half fill my cup of coffee before I shiver it. It's as if every one of your thoughts attracts me to bring me to you.

She: Thanks to you, my heart finally heals in me, it has always urged me, a desire for happiness that has always been prevented, you bring me to the point of rediscovering all the nooks and crannies of love that I had so unfairly lost. You make me happy. Again, I am in the middle of paradise, and I can live my life, at last I am little mouse, awake and chills, uncontrolled attracted by your charm and gentleness, your sensitivity that has polished up my heart and capsized and you I'm the love I do not want to leave.

Me: We do not have to lose ourselves first to open our eyes and all the senses and to grow with them. How I would like to look into your eyes, read your soul, understand all your fears and realize all your fears and then go to bliss with you. I do not know why my words flow that way, I did not think it could be the way it is now and I shudder to imagine how it gets stronger and stronger. I can not do anything that has nothing to do with you right now, or that does not bring me closer to you. Yes, I can well imagine that will kill me your love, but only to come back even stronger, so I can endure even more of your love. Where will love lead us, because it will never end.

She: You really are a wonderful and extraordinary man, I think that by your side, everyone is just happy, I would resume life, I rethink the definition of certain words like trust, sharing, sincerity, love and faithfulness. I want to live and I want to make you happy every day, I want to live with you, give myself, give you everything I have in loyalty, forget everything and start over in complete sincerity.

Me: You will make me happy when I see that you are happy, when I realize that I can give you everything you long for. If only I do not fulfill a tiny, perhaps meaningless little thing, I will be grieved to death. I want to sit opposite you and keep silent, looking deep into your eyes and only telling with my eyes, because I know that you understand what my eyes, my soul, will tell you. My hands want to glide over you without touching you, just so the vibration coming from those hands will lead you to unimaginable heights. I want to see you in everything you do and serve you in the name of love.

She: I think about how much you have and I'm ready to go with you, with you I want to build my future, see your tears, see you smile, feel your sleep, your strength, we can have that together and you'll see I am not mistaken, for me love and the heart are paramount, and I am even ready to die together, having found my bliss in the "forbidden of the law". Every day, I will love you more, and I never thought that one day I would feel such a great love. It's very hard to live so far away from your lover, but we'll be together soon and for the whole life.

Me: What can be forbidden in love, yes, I would like to show you my tears, all my scars that were inflicted on my soul, Yes, I also want to see your scars, gently caress them, kiss them and make them disappear remove your consciousness as an excuse for what you have endured. Yes, I want to be with you. Love will also overcome the distance. Let us be patient, even if it is very difficult. How am I supposed to tell you all at once what I want to say, show all at once what I want to show you, fly over the stars with me. Our life is picking up speed and we have to be careful so that we can enjoy everything in peace. Time is irrelevant, but it is important to enjoy every single detail down to the smallest detail.

Me: Every single second that you are not with me fills me with sadness. Every single second that passes, where you are not with me, fills me with joy, because it also brings me closer to the desired goal. It's going to be hard for me to be careful because you're in me, everywhere and every time and everything else becomes meaningless, how can I pay attention to traffic when I only see you, how can I hear what others say when I only hear you or your words that you have written to me. Everything I see is superimposed on your image, but I can not indulge in the way I want, not because of myself, but because of the responsibility I have voluntarily taken and that makes me happy.

Me: I have to work a bit and go shopping. I also want to meditate a bit. But I'll be back soon, waiting for you.

Me: With you and through you I am like a slave of love, not trapped or chained, free to go whenever I want and yet I am like a slave. I can not escape, wherever, no one can run away from themselves, hide from themselves and I do not want to. With you I am at home, with you in my heart I am at home everywhere, no matter where my body is. You are more than my love can ever express, you are a goddess, allow me to build you a temple and worship you. If your light will dazzle me, I will be blinded with joy, if your love silences my words, I will gladly be dumb, if your love closes my ear, I will be joyfully deaf, just so I will be with you learn to see, hear and speaking new. I do not know what happened and it does not matter because only this moment is important.

Me: There is so much to talk about me. I am also a man who often cries in emotional moments, bursts into tears. It does not matter if it's tears of joy that will surely come to me when I see you for the first time, or tears of sadness, I can cry at a happy ending in the movie or in the middle of something touching or a simple video. Tears are my friends, they help me to cleanse my soul. I also have no inhibitions about crying in the presence of others, and I'm not ashamed of my tears, but I'm also the one who can entertain a whole hall and make them laugh when the conditions are right. Be aware of this when deciding what we do or where we go out together.

She: I'm happy and excited to have the chance to love you and share your journey. You are a unique person and maybe you are the person who will heal my wounded heart which is broken and emptied, words that I lack to express my feelings, you will forever remain in my heart entrusted to you, through these words, those sentences that will surely make sense in my life.

Me: I hope I can do more than just heal your heart or fulfill you. I want to go much higher, much deeper and much further with you. I want to give you the deep inner love, peace and quiet that always accompanies you, that always protects you, no matter what happens, that never makes you sad, even if my body dies one day, that you recognize and see my soul. I want to show you how you can talk to me on another level, that you understand what I tell you from eternity. There are so many things I want to share with you.

She: You have instilled in me the desire, the longing, the love, the friendship and the life in my heart. My soul can no longer maintain its peacefulness, for without you the world seems gloomy and empty. Emptiness from charm and color, passion, emotion and feels. The winter time in your arms. I long for your kisses, and your tender caresses, there is nothing else I could use to fill the void that is left.

Me: I will give you everything and show you. The world will not be gloomy and my death should not and will not bring emptiness. Even after my physical death, I will be with you for many lives, I want to show you how to find me, even after death. The human desires, I am eager to fulfill them, but I can also live like a monk when necessary. Nothing will stop us or really be able to separate, not from my side and also no external circumstances. Just give me a picture of your eyes and I'll try to show you something about this picture to give you something that you may not even know exists. Maybe it'll take a while to recognize it, but you'll recognize it. I myself am just a small insignificant person in something much bigger. You may not yet be able to estimate how great my love is and how tall it will be. Yes, you suspect something, I know that. What you have now seen through me, what you think is special, is but a trifle of what I want to give you.

Me: Take me, take my soul, we belong to you, do whatever you want with us. I will accept all the suffering of the world as I have promised, but it will be easier with you. Whenever I became sad and weary of people's suffering, I was filled with a light of love that gave me everything. This light has now taken shape and is even brighter and stronger and brings my words to the limits again. Gayatri the name of a goddess, through whom I turn to the all-encompassing light of all life and through which everything can be healed. Be my Gayatri.

She: Love, I described it as the most beautiful of virtues on the plan to give the best of oneself, without being the victim in case of need, one must give the moments of anger an understanding to change the subject to discuss it with maybe other opinion later. You can easily improvise, every day, without calculation, to get another taste in this life, which is already bitter, and I often add that love is a mutual feeling between two people and not between ten. Do you understand me, I hope so.

Me: Quote: "Who speaks of love of victims, can not mean true love". Quote end. If people live together and emotions are too strong, it can lead to a dispute, should anyone recognize this, a previously agreed signal word should be pronounced. "Stop" for example and then both should leave the topic for a while, and when everything settles down, you can come back to it again. But often it happens that when the calm returns and the love regains command, it becomes much more understood and often leads to a different view of things, and no further conversation is needed or there is a very different conversation about the same subject, Yes, I agree that love should normally be between 2 people, that's usually the case. Even if the Mormons see it differently. But what if you meet 2 soul mates? If it were just a soulmate, I could say that it happens very often that the soulmates do not live together and each one has another happy relationship, maybe the job of learning to love others. What if you have very strong feelings for two different people and have a responsibility? How should the person who feels it handle it? I do not know, but I am full of confidence to let everything happen, everything has meaning, whether you understand it now or later. I consider for myself what promises I can give and keep, for me there is no easy promise that I give. I do not know if I could answer you, what you wanted to ask or if I misunderstood.

She: Nobody is perfect. And no report can be perfect. I'm telling you this so that you do not get discouraged, or apologize when things go wrong, what's important.

Me: I do not judge anything. If something goes wrong, that's not a mistake from just one. Therefore, there is no guilt or innocence. When the trust is there and also the willingness to listen and speak honestly, then you know that you can really tell the other everything without fear that he will send me away, there is nothing that you can not bring back into harmony, Let me tell you, there is no blame for me, just something that you can improve, also I never do anything right and I want my partner to tell me. This or that could perhaps be done differently.

She: We will meet again someday and I am sure that we share our emotions, share our joys and our worries, to be happy you and I, my love, loved it.

Me: I know that I see you every day and every minute that I love you and only want you to be happy, no matter what you do or wherever you are, with or without me, it does not change my feelings.

Me: I do not know what happened and I do not know why, my heart is filled with sadness, I will accept and respect your decision without complaint. I will wait for you. So long will I enjoy your words. All my love will accompany you in all kinds and at all times in all dimensions.

Me: I think and think in myself what or rather why something happened. So far I have found 3 very different ways, depending on which view I see it. There are certainly more ways to look at things. And maybe I'll talk upside down. But did not you say that I should not be discouraged? However, there are also some other interpretations that lead in very different directions. But at the beginning I call 3 different possibilities. "of which I will write separately now".

Me: 1. Maybe you are not mad at me at all, but you have only recognized something for yourself and hope that I also recognize it and take a different position than the one two days ago. Maybe I let myself be blinded by or with the number ten. Love between 2 and not 10, of course, then my answer must hurt you. But can I kill feelings if I deliberately break promises? I know that I will probably never be able to travel to Sri Lanka again because of my visa problems, my life in poverty and also because of my illness in my legs, I also know that she will probably never come to me, that has its reasons. I will not be able to travel to America any more, maybe with a ship, but so ... and maybe you can not and do not want to go to Germany or back to France, which you can not do right now because of obligations. But these are all just assumptions and every direction allows so many possibilities. I also know that a life of three is not possible if only one person can not live it, or if only one person could live it. So, if that causes you to pull back, remember that we can both live together undisturbed. My thoughts and attention are with you when we are together, but I will not completely forget my wife and I will also spend money on food, medicines and clothes for her.

Me: 2. I think and think, and I have no idea what annoyed you or what makes you doubt me or my words. Was it the words Bodhisattva or the goddess Gayatri? Because after this message something has changed. If so, look in the net what these two words mean. There are no persons on a secular level. Well, you'll have your reasons, and I'll accept that as well, even if it would make me happy if you tell me directly what made you angry. What good is it to me to emphasize my honesty and openness in all things if they do not reach you? Maybe this message will make you even more angry and it will annoy you just because I'm sending it. How could I prove to you what I can only guess. Now I'm sitting here and do not know, restless, the thoughts turn in circles, find no beginning and no end. I will wait patiently, but I can not promise that I will write one or two messages, I will not complain either and will be glad whatever you give me, even the tears that are flowing right now, that's alright, I like to cry. I was and I'm ready to let happen, what happens, even what's happening now is part of it, I'm returning to my inner center, This time without you, which is really not true, because you're in my heart, but me will come to you again if you call me. I'm not afraid of the dark, which now partially envelops me. Love will overcome everything. It also overcomes fear and mistrust.

Me: Everything changes, again and again, I'll wait for it to change again. I wish you a nice and peaceful night in light and love. I know that I love you and I know that love is free to go or come.

Now I will wait with hope and fear. May happen, what should happen. So be it. Many Thanks.

Sometime in the night.

She: Hello, I'm really bad, but I think you're wrong with me because I can not be mad at you, my internet connection is why I could not write to you, or could quickly see your messages.

She: I think you will sleep, so I wish you a beautiful night, with my hands stroking you and my sweet voice, will sing you a lullaby, so you can sleep well and have sweet dreams, imagine that I am in your I am near. I love you and I want to thank you for all the words you left to me before your sleep. We will talk tomorrow. I love you my angel.

Me: Hello Startail, what's that rollercoaster ride that I'm experiencing right now. I do not know what, how or why. All I know is that I love you and want to be with you. Your sentence "we'll meet again someday" sounded like a goodbye for a long time. This has opened the channel to one (I have to wipe some tears from my eyes) to an infinite sadness. Maybe I'm too sensitive too. It also plays a small role that I just tried to stop smoking for you. No one has done it before, that I'm trying seriously. Maybe it was also a busy morning because I wanted to help a family so they would not lose their apartment. No matter what it was. The channel to infinite sadness was open. That pretty much blew me away and it took me a long time to regain my inner balance. I do not care how much time you need for something, I'll wait and depending on how you say goodbye (or I understand that parting), this waiting time will be filled with more or less joy or sadness. Like on a roller coaster ride, it's back again, through your message I found this morning. I see that your message came a little too late for me, so that I could only read it now and think that you are sleeping now (at the time when I am writing these words). Sleep well protected by my love. I'll take care that nothing happens to you. I think it will be easier for us when we are together. My English is not really good and language difficulties can be overcome more easily if you and I can hug each other or look each other in the eye. I know how much I love you and how easily you can shake me up. I know that I'm waiting for a word from you, a gesture from you.

She: Hello how are you my "angel" I am alive and well, I think you have to sleep, I want to give you a small message to wish you a very nice day full of joy, then you have to go to work go, but as I said in the previous news I have a problem with the internet connection and will not be online today.

Me: Good morning, your message makes me very happy, I will wait with pleasure, because I know that you will sign up again, it does not matter if in 1-2 days or 1 week or even month. The reasons are meaningless to me. Whether it's work, connection or just time to think or to find yourself. Just say, see you and it's enough for me. My thoughts and my love are with you, maybe you can feel them sometimes, they should protect you and fill you with ease. I also have a lot to do because I have neglected my work in the last few days something. See you soon my darling, I'll be there.

Me: No matter when you see this message. I had to send it now. You came to me at first like a barely perceptible breeze that grew stronger and stronger until it carried me to unimaginable heights with the power of a hurricane, how small and helpless I am. You came to me like a little stream that became a river and got madder and just washed me away. There was no chance to hold on to me. Be it the hurricane or the river, I ended up in a sea of love.

She: Talking to you is a time I would like to share with you until I know your mistakes and your qualities to understand you in all your actions and desires, because you are the kind of man I am after I longed for it.

Me: I'm glad you're here. It will take a long time to fully understand and get to know each other. If you could look deep into my eyes, I could touch you gently at the temples, it would happen within a few minutes. Just as I could recognize your deepest secrets and desires. Can I ask you a question about the pictures in your profile?

She: Do not worry.

Me: You have 4 pictures on your profile, maybe 4 different people. Which one are you?

Note: She sent me another fake picture at this point. The picture was identified as a lovescammer during image search.

She: That's me.

Me: Are you sure I've typed on the beautiful woman with the glasses, sitting at the computer, for me that's not a problem, I told you, you can be an alien, no problem and maybe you do not know, search this picture or the other two with the blond hair on the Google Image Search. This picture you sent me now shows a woman named "Ann Angel"

She: I ask you, do you think I'm in this picture?

Me: I do not think. I love you no matter where you are or what you look like. But I know there are many scammers who make copies of other people to do something. If I think that of you, I would not ask. I believe in you. I told you that I think you are the woman sitting at the computer.

You: Yes, I'm really on the computer, but I do not know why you think I'm beautiful.

Note: Again, this picture did not show the person I'm writing with, as it later turned out.

Me: You have a really nice glow, something in this picture goes deeper, it fits better with your way of talking and your charisma. But why are you showing me the other pictures. I'm not judging about anything you do, but if we want to stay together for a long time, we have to trust each other. No matter what you do or what you look like, it does not change my love. but it is easier for me if I know the truth.

Me: It's time for me to meditate and sleep, it was exhausting days for me. You not have to do anything and give me so much, just that you are there, gives me so much. The word love is far to small to describe what I feel. You have written to me that you want to know everything about me, today I hope that I could tell you and show that I always address honestly, as far as I am concerned, that I do not believe what I see somewhere or what others tell me I will always ask you first. I have heard and read the most adventurous things about myself in my life. And even if it were true, it would not be a problem if I found out about you. I hope that I have not excited you to much and wish you a nice evening and a wonderful night. May I always be able to protect you. I love you.

She: aaaaaaaa. I wasted all my time and I do not want that to happen to me again. I have learned to love you and you know that I will always be there no matter how hard it is. You and I, we know that you to will be willing to do anything to please me.

Me: It does not matter what you did or I did earlier, We are in the Now and I want you by my side and when the whole world around us collapses, I will know to protect you. I'm already thinking about how I can come to you, because I do not want to wait, how I can give you more love, I devour myself after you and I alone would be happy to be allowed to lie at your feet. But now I will immediately dream of you. The last few days have been very exhausting and my eyes are closing. In a few hours, even before I go to the bathroom, I'll write to you, I'll think of you before I open my eyes. Feel hugged by me.

She: Before you go to bed, look out of your window, the stars that you will see are the thousands of kisses I send you. I wish you were by my side now, in my bed with me. Unfortunately, you are far away, but that does not stop me from wishing you a good night. You are my last thought before I sleep, you are my only pleasure, you are my ideas to write, you are my joy to smile, your absence makes me suffer. Good night my darling.

Friday 3:06pm

Me: You my Startail, I do not have to see the stars, to feel your kisses on me, because I can feel their vibrations, which can only be felt with very deep love, touch my body and stroke me, from the hair tips to the smallest fiber of my body so that you fill me with the energy of love until it becomes almost unbearable. I can not move here because I fear that every minute movement, every trembling, could interrupt or diminish this. I want to touch you with my kisses like a feather, make your body shudder to discover your desires and preferences without wasting any thought on me, hours and nights before I can not hold myself back. Maybe I should hold back my thoughts, not because I wanted to, but to not destroy the magic of those thoughts and feelings so that I can survive and work this day to be with you soon. But how can I work rationally, if only I think of you? If it's already so hard, how hard it will be when you're physically at my side. Mentally, you are with me all day, sitting right next to me, watching me as I write these words to you, looking deep into my eyes to read my words before they reach my fingers and I can write them. Do not suffer because I am absent, let the thoughts I am soon with you fill you with joy. One day, when you leave the house, a small fat idiot sits at your door admiring you. I will find you no matter where you are and I will come to you as fast as I can. But now I will try to divert my thoughts to realize our desires. I wish you a ..... what can I say because I do not know what time of day you read these lines. I wish you the most beautiful day, more beautiful than the one you have had in your life so far. See you later, my love, my inspiration, my lover, my goddess.

She: Hello my love, how are you, I hope good. I saw your messages and it makes me very happy, I think you have to work now, but if you're not busy let me know and we can talk, I miss you so much.

1:00pm

Me: Hello Startail, I've just come back from outside. Doctor, post office and business. Time for work is not a problem as I work at home. Today is a very good day for me, ok every day is good, but today more. Because everything goes by itself, as I would like it and with the knowledge of your love, it is fantastic. We missed each other by about 15 minutes. I love you, my sweet Startail.

Me: Do you know that you are everywhere here, everyone here has your voice, everyone here looks like you, moves as gracefully as you, your image is on everything I see. I drink my coffee from you, type in my messages. I do not recognize letters, I see only small pictures of you, I tried to shop, but in the shop you were only, you were the shelf and the contents, I hardly dared to go, because all paths were paved with your picture. I see, hear and feel only you, even my breath is you. Where will it lead me? Soon it will rain here and it will not surprise me if you fall from the sky many thousands of times, every raindrop will show your face, even the sky is a huge picture of you. I know that I'm crazy, from and to you, I do not dare to eat, but would rather caress the food, because it looks like you. I do not know how you do that and what you do, but please never stop that.

She: My dear, what are you doing right now?

Me: I chat with a beautiful woman that I love.

She: Even if you are far away from me, you know that it will always be easy to teleport me to your site at any time with a simple message. I miss you a little. I even think that you miss it often, sometimes a bit too much and even more. Happiness is always there when I know that you are in my thoughts, no matter how far in our worlds the distance between us is, hearts will not change. I wait, I wish and hope for this famous moment, when we will be together, a big piece of my heart is missing, when you are not with me. I miss you.

Me: You are always with me, as I am always with you. This is independent of place, time or dimensions. At night I often sit with you on a star and we look together at the universe, we see galaxies emerge and pass, time does not exist for us because we were at the beginning and we will always be at the bottom because we are everything are, it feels like something is missing, but it is always there. Yes, I too long for the moment of our first meeting here on a worldly level, and I am also a little afraid of it, because I will be helpless, I am afraid of being unable to fulfill your wishes and demands.

She: You will always do it because you are a gentleman and with you I feel like in heaven. I do not regret having met you and I will not even regret it in my life because you embody all the joy that a woman needs and that's enough for me, if you're part of our union.

Me: Yes, I always try to be a gentleman, and with you that's especially easy for me. I will hold you, if you want to be held, keep silent, if you want to keep silent with me, comfort, if circumstances require it, I will try to make heaven on earth for you, I will be sandbag or punching ball if you have to react. I'll just be there no matter what happens. I'll stroke you, be a bridge whenever you need one. Somehow I will try that the government declares our first meeting a national holiday, all the bells are to ring, all people should enjoy our love if you want it.

She: Yes, I would, and will finish my days by your side so that I will never be sad again and support you in any difficult test.

Me: What serious trials could wait for us when we're together. I will protect you from any sadness, you will never be unhappy or sad again when I am by your side and the short time until then will pass very quickly.

Me: How will it be, when we are together, at least in the first time, we will be able to do anything but love, hug and lose ourselves in the eyes of others. Can we eat and drink or starve and dehydrate without realizing it? All those crazy thoughts go through my head. Well, I think we will find out.

Me: This lyrics also say how I feel and what I want to do. It's as if others are singing my words.

Miracle of Love – Eurythmics

How many sorrows

Do you try to hide

In a world of illusions

That's covering your mind

I'll show you something good

Oh, I'll show you something good

When you open your mind
You'll discover the sign
That there's something
You're longing to find

The miracle of love
Will take away your pain
When the miracle of love
Comes your way again

Cruel is the night
That covers up your fears
Tender is the one
That wipes away your tears

There must be a bitter breeze
To make you sting so viciously
They say the greatest coward
Can hurt the most ferociously

I'll show you something good
Oh, I'll show you something good

When you open your heart

You can make a new start
When your crumbling world falls apart

The miracle of love
Will take away your pain
When the miracle of love
Comes your way again

Me: It's time for me

Me: What are the sweet dreams? I have come a lot closer to this answer because they have something to do with you. I want to put aside the illusions that have obscured the mind, show you all the wonders of love, and let you feel what is so deep and pure, what is newborn, and has never seen anything bad. Love can also be seen with the eyes of a newborn. Have a nice evening and a charming night. Sleep sweet and well protected, let me send you dreams, they should bring you into a magical realm of love, I love you.

She: Thank you for these beautiful words the only thing I can give a man is tenderness ... the sweetness and love and my desire to go forward! Is that enough to seduce you? Not sure and yet, I can tell you that there is an unwavering desire in me to respect you, to seduce you and to make you happy! Will your heart be touched by this distress? My bruised heart, call your answer? There are too many questions in me and I'm really nervous! Rest assured, I'm a normal, well-balanced, non-depressive woman (despite these blues shots) and rather cheerful and happy in life!

Saturday 16.06 about 2:00am

Me: Is it not tenderness and love that a man desires, do not be nervous, do not be afraid, how nice would it be, if you trust me so much to tell me everything you want to say, give me everything without inhibitions, forgive me, my words should not sound disrespectful, because I will never do this to you, they should not scare you either. I can and will control myself as long as you want, but I also feel a wild animal in me. Tell me what you want to tell me without being scared, I judge, I'm very little stranger on earth and maybe someone should start talking about what's going to get stronger inside. But that could be a problem, because I'm probably going to have trouble leaving my gentlemanly role, for that I love you too much. I want to show and prove to you that I will honor you, never press you. I let myself be seduced by you and hope that I know what a woman wants in this direction. Forgive me, my thoughts are even stronger than what I write here. There is something special in the air Oh "Mon Amour" is just as you are and I will love it, no matter what it is, I will not judge and you will know at a glance what I feel because I hide nothing, neither joy or sadness neither pain nor tears. For me it is important that my wife can read me, as in an open book, even if I, as a gentleman can not say everything, without which I will be asked. I love you my sweetheart.

Note: Sometimes French words are used. Mon Amour means my love, mon cherie is my dear, je taime means i love you.

Me: Restless and perhaps perplexed was the night, how can start a morning more beautiful than watching the sunrise, with the knowledge of a love, with the thought of a beautiful and warm woman. Yet there are always thoughts, whether the last message written in the middle of the night, driven by yearning, was not a little to daring? Where I found it hard to stay a gentleman. Once the words are sent, you can not take them back if you use your mind again and who knows if they will not help us a bit, because maybe no one really dares. I think in a few hours, after you wake up and you read those stories, I'll find out. Whether another inhibition threshold was overcome or whether my words destroyed, which began so beautifully. I try to stay in my inner center and not think about it. Anyway, I wish you a day full of miracles that nothing bad happens to you and that you can live happily this day. "Mon Cherie je taime".

She: That night I had a sweet dream where you came to find me, your tender mouth was on my lips a sweet kiss, your hands were so caressingly stroking my face, you closed your eyes around my picture to draw it in your memory. I tenderly took your hand and placed it on my heart, feeling the powerful thumps that pounded my whole body. Our molten souls covered our bodies with sweat and we surrendered for one night of our passion.

Me: Hello "Mon Cherie", I'm glad you're here. Your image will always be deeply engraved in my memory. Yes, I also find you among the many people who live around you. I do not know if my hands can stroke your face perfectly, but they will try it with all their tenderness. I melt, I pass. I want to cover every part of your beautiful body with tender kisses, all night, enjoy watching you, feeling a shiver after the other make your body tremble until I let myself be carried off in complete ecstasy.

She: I love you so much, you give me back my taste for life and no one will ever be able to get in our way, my dear, promise me that.

Me: I can only promise it for myself that it will be so, that I always try to give you everything you need and what I can give. But I can not promise for you if one day you will not have enough of me, if perhaps a younger one attracts you.

She: I need you near me. Nobody can bring me what you are giving me. More than you think, my love is only for you. My beloved love. But I will fight for you, I will only wait for you. I am waiting the time it takes to find me in your arms because you alone are my heart beating every second.

Me: I'm doing everything to make it happen quickly. I've even been looking for flights to come to you, I do not know yet how much cost of living or what apartment for us 2 or maybe 3 (your grandmother) costs per month, but I'll find it out too.

She: I do not know what to say, I'm very excited and my only wish right now is to be with you and count the stars at dusk.

Me: Are words so important? If it is not the magic of silence, and watching what our souls whisper to each other for caresses, we must count the stars to enjoy their beauty together. As long as I am not there, the stars should serve us, always reflect my love, just as I find your love in the stars.

She: As we evolve and share, our relationship will continue to evolve and change. At the heart of our relationship is a deep respect and appreciation among us. Our relationship can only be strengthened and embellished every day if the will exists between us.

Me: Yes, we will grow until we can touch the stars with our hands. I do not know if I can ever make a world trip with you, if I can offer you a lifestyle that you deserve, but I will always be able to give you a flower of my love.

She: I am thinking of all those wonderful gifts I would like to give you for all the love you will offer me as our community grows ever more intense. I could offer you the world and its riches, but none of that would equal the price you have for me.

Me: A few years ago, I decided to live in poverty (for myself), I do not need worldly things to be happy, but like I said, that's just for me, I want to fulfill you even the worldly desires, also luxury, if you want it. For me, a loving laugh would be enough to fill me with deep joy. If you also give me your love, how could I describe it now in words, what it will give me.

She: Loving means finding one's truth in another and helping that person find his own truth. It creates a passionate community, far beyond words, well beyond time, my love for you has grown like a torrent, as strong as the ocean and as powerful as the wind. You live my nights, you live my days, you make my thoughts, you my heart. In you I found the person who helps me to thrive.

Me: Can one describe love more beautifully than you have just done? Yes, love is also timeless, because out of love everything is created. I find myself in you again, I know that we are already merged, that nothing and no one can separate. I see with love, I think with love, I talk with love, I live with love, I am love.

She: I will never leave you, whatever the future brings, you must know that my love is faithful and reserved only for you. Believe me, if I tell you that I will never leave you, you represent too much for me! I've waited too long for a connection like ours, and I want nothing more than you.

Me: Yes, I believe and trust in it, I give my life for it, because if it were otherwise, I would be destroyed forever, I would go to a hermitage and never talk to a human again. This is a vow that I hold forever.

Me: I can not get you stars from the sky, but I will create some and give them to you. Do whatever you want with me, lead me on a skyscraper and tell me to jump, with a smile I'll just do it to show you that your love makes me float.

She: Wake me up to challenge all winds. A grain of our heart drawn deeply. My memory preserves this immortal image of the day we met. Our hearts were called, our eyes were searched, your first glimpse was enchanted. I could not move like a statue anymore. My heart revolted.

Me: Gentle and sheltered, should you sleep while I watch over you and protect you, I will keep the wind away from you, should he want to disturb you, I will warn all those who do not have the necessary respect for you. We have planted a small grain in the earth, each one of them, which now shows the first shoots already entwined and never let go, two small grains will grow into a large flower that lasts longer than all humankind will give.

She: In the heart of my worries, in the wind of my afflictions, thinking deeply of my concerns for you. My melancholy disappears. Your picture so sweet, I'm glad. Your tender face dazzles me. And your sweet voice drowns me. Your words, such beautiful words comfort me and appease me. But above all your love fills me with affection. Thank you, "angel" of my life. Touch of my nights. Enchanter of my dreams. Lord of my heart. Thank you, you are my soul, my life, my light.

Me: Forgetting the worries in your heart, the adversities of life, the fear in your thoughts, falling in love, I will be there to catch you, I will be the servant of our love, I want to be the one in your reality, I will take everything dark from you so that you can live in pure love. With your love there is no easy or hard life, it is what it is and what it wants to be.

Saturday 10:20pm

Me: I want to be the sand on the beach, over which you walk like a goddess, on which you lie down to feel the sun, I want to be the towel with which you dry yourself, the flower that pleases your eye, the air you breathe, the roof under which you stand, when it rains or the rain, if you want to run in it, I want to be your hand that gives and takes, your shoes and your clothes in which you hatch every day, the food that nourishes you, the music that makes you dance, the song that you sing with joy, your beautiful voice that sings this song that speaks to others, I want to be your gentleness, bringing blessings over others, I want to be the truth that will give you peace forever and bring love. I will meditate now and open all my senses so that together we can observe the tender lovemaking of our souls. Be protected by me and have a wonderful night.

Sunday 17.06 10:04am

Me: I just want to wish you a nice day. I can not stop thinking of you, loving you. I'm sitting here listening to love songs and I think I do not have to tell you what my body is doing, it's shaking, even though I can not move, it's dancing all over the world. He is so restless and yet filled with a deep joy. I just let love carry me because I know she's leading me to you. Have a nice day with many magical moments coming from a pure source of love. Longing, but also patient, I wait for your message. Well, with my patience it is something like that, because the impatience wants to come over me. "Mon Cherie, je taime".

She: I heard someone called me. I turned around. There was nobody there. Only then did I realize that it was my heart that spoke to you. I miss you. I miss our conversations. The ease with which we can talk and reveal everything we have in our heads is so extraordinary. I have never experienced this with anyone, when you are away from me, I am like a ship without sails in the middle of the ocean. Life is moving around in this vast universe, but I'm not moving, looking forward to your return ... You're my veil, you're my horizon. I miss you and I do not know how to tell you so you can understand it.

Me: Just as my heart speaks incessantly to you, calling you, crying for you and your love, or just whispering caresses. If you are a ship without sails, I will be the ocean. We are the Universe, sometimes immobile and sometimes like a comet, who with his tail takes wishes from people and carries them into the universe to fulfill themselves. How much I want to be beside you, even though I'm far away from you. Again one day approaches the evening, you so far and yet so near in my heart. The night will come without you lying next to me and yet you are with me. We'll see how long I can stay reasonable so I do not chop down to get to you. I have done and dared to do many crazy things in my life.

She: My love?

Me: I am always yours. How does my body demand, how much does my heart and soul long for you? Today I may have looked more than a thousand times, whether you are here or if you have sent me a little message, how grateful I am for every little word or when I see that you are online.

She: My dear, I want to talk to you about something that really embarrasses me.

Me: You can tell me everything, you should not be ashamed. But I'm afraid you're breaking my heart because you want something that I may not be able to fulfill you now.

She: My dear, I have a problem because my internet connection ends tonight, and I can not afford to charge it, so I wanted you to help me charge it.

Me: My biggest wish is to help you, but you know that I've chosen a life of poverty for myself. I only ever have as much as I need to live one day. Every month I send the money I get to Sri Lanka, a little, so that my wife does not starve and something that some children without parents do not starve and get medical treatment. How could I help you now, my heart is bleeding, my mind is crying because I can not. At the beginning of the new month, I might be able to transfer you a small amount, although it would be hard for me to decide who would starve for it.

She: Okay, do not worry, my dear. I'll make sure the manager does not shut me down, and when the end of the month comes, you'll send me some money so I can give it to him.

Me: First, tell me how much, because I'll never know how much I'll achieve at the beginning of next month, I do not want to promise anything I can not keep.

She: 265 my love.

Note: 265 Euro is about 174 000 CFA. Internet connection costs start at 10000CFA per month in Ivory Coast and the most expensive prices have reached 50 US dollars.

Me: I think you're not talking about CFA francs.

She: No, I'm talking about the euro, my dear.

Me: I was afraid of that. Exactly this amount I send every month to Sri Lanka. How long do you have an internet connection for this?

She: Every month my love.

Me: Very expensive, here in Germany it would last for more than a year.

She: Life is very expensive here and I find it difficult to feed myself, without forgetting that I live with my grandmother, who can always have a serious illness.

Me: It's hard all over the world, without money. Today I can not promise anything, but I will try everything possible to make it possible and talk to some people, maybe I can even get that sum or something more I send you each month. And if I'm dreaming, I may even be able to bring you the money personally. But one by one. I try to get the 265, then I try to increase the sum and at the same time get a sum that allows me to come to you.

She: Thank you, my love and you know, I would like to come to you and live with you my whole life, because I could learn again by your side things that I do not remember, which only a man who loves can change and that makes a woman happy.

Me: I am an old-school gentleman and I would never expect that a woman I love comes to me or travels alone. I would always personally pick her up or come to her to stay. I also like to get to know other countries and cultures and enjoy living close to the beach. Your grandmother is another reason that I do not want you to leave because of me. We will see what is possible. How much I want to have a photo of you that belongs to me alone and that I put on my bedside table, that my eyes see you before I fall asleep and see first when I wake up. Oh, what would make such a picture sweeten my day? I need to ask a friend for a webcam so we can see each other during the conversations. Love always finds ways and possibilities and I will find ways and possibilities.

She: Yes my dear, you are a gentleman, as I say every day, that only a man of experience can think that way and I know that I can never be angry with you.

Me: There are very few people who are never angry, I am one of them and if you should not be, I want to be the one who captures, relieves and then transforms that emotion of you. I have already told you that nothing is alien to me, that I also know all the hells through which a person can go and that I have learned to condemn nothing and always strive to settle everything with love.

She: You are a man who understands me, a charming being. I tell you everything that comes from my heart and everything I feel to show you that I love you and that I do not play with your feelings, that I am good to you and that I have a life with a rare and loved one being, someone can live extraordinary. I want to be the woman who so kindly ignites the flame of your heart that our love story lasts for a long time and that man you are.

Me: I'm just a simple man who learned a lot, you lit my heart some time ago and it will burn forever as long as you're honest with me, otherwise it will break into millions and I'll just become an empty and willeless being and walk in absolute solitude, like a monk alone somewhere in the mountains, where no one can reach him. You can be who you are, what you want, but always be honest with me.

She: I am sincere and I say this from the bottom of my heart, no one will replace you, in my heart you will always be. I do not spend a day without you in my thoughts. I love only you. I need you to be with me. Nobody can give me what you are giving me right now. More than you know, my love is only for you, my beloved darling. But I will fight for you, I will wait for you. I'll wait the time it takes to find myself in your arms, because only you let my heart beat, every second. I have decided to trust you, and I just want you to trust me absolutely so that our love is indestructible.

Me: I do not think about what could happen, because I only feel a very deep love for you, to which I have surrendered, I will be grateful for everything you give me, I am happy about everything, but I want not that you fight, because everything we fight will also fight against us. Love is the greatest power that exists, and as long as our love is pure, nothing can and will happen to us.

She: Every day I think of you, every night you are in my thoughts and in my heart. We'll meet again someday and I'm sure we'll put together our emotions, our joys and our worries, just you and me my beloved love. I will never leave you, whatever the future holds, you must know that my love is faithful and reserved only for you.

She: I waited too long to have a connection like ours, and I do not want anything else.

Note: Here I noticed that exactly this message has ever been sent, which raises the suspicion that their texts were also copied from the network.

Me: Yes, yes, yes a thousand times yes. I got to know you and to love you, I was a fool who dreamed, this dream came true, fulfilled and makes room for even bigger dreams. These to will be fulfilled. Every second, no matter what I do or where I am, you are in me, you are the blood that flows through my body. Words can not say what I want to express because there are no words for it.

She: I love you very much and forever when I think about both of us, sharing our hopes and dreams, our joys and our worries, I know that "we" will never end. I have committed myself to you forever. Life is not easy, I know it, but together, you and me, we can overcome all difficulties.

Me: For you and me, united in love, there will be no difficulties. I already mentioned, I do not know if I can offer the luxury I want to give you, but I know that I can make sure we always have a roof over your head that you must never starve, neither after for food, still for love, I will wrap you in clothes worthy of a queen, as far as I can decorate with jewelry, and I will always look like a beggar beside you, for never can I and will achieve your beauty.

She: You are a man who understands me, a charming being. I tell you everything that comes from my heart and everything that I feel to show you that I love you and that I do not play with your feelings i am good with you and i live my life with a rare and lovely being, someone extraordinary. I wish to be the woman who so kindly ignites the flame of your heart that our love story lasts long. This man is you.

She: My love, I want us to talk about our children we will soon have.

Me: I do not need much and it will be easy for you to give me everything I need. I just want to see you happy, to fulfill your most secret wishes. Many would think I was crazy, yes, I'm crazy, after you, I'm blind and deaf, have humor and love, but I'm also always able to find ways to use the opportunities to offer you something.

She: My love, I want to have two children with you.

Me: If you do not have children yet, we need at least 10 months for the first, unless they are twins. 1 month until I can be with you and the other nine months.

Me: I promise that I will be a good father for our children.

She: Tell me which names you want for our children.

Me: I have no real idea at the time. There are so many beautiful names, I do not know what you want, as we call our children. For me, the name is not important, I will see that the children also get a good and safe life in love, the name I do not care.

She: Darling, do you have a Hangout account?

Me: Maybe, if there's a girl, let's call her Olivia, later, when I call Olivia, I'm sure one will come. Yes, hangout klauscamper@gmail.com

She: Okay, my dear, I know you have absolute confidence in me, but I want to be between you and me, a password that only you and I will know.

Me: Tell me more about what you imagine.

Me: "Mon amor" I do not know if you come back online today because I know you have other things to do as well. I also want to do a bit to set the course for our future and to make it easier for you to live your life, regardless of whether I am already there or not, how much I long for you and how much I would like to be now dreaming and imagining the future with you, in my mind, but only dreaming will not bring us any euros, so I'll work a little harder and longer, I'll be able to rest in your arms later and devote myself to you. I think that you understand that I want to offer you a carefree life and that today and now the romantic in me must give way for the worker and entrepreneur. How much I rejoice and long for your next words, which are so loving and warming that drives me to make everything we dream come true. Have a nice evening and an unforgettable night with the thoughts of my love for you. And maybe you just give me a photo of you that only belongs to me. I love you "mon cherie je t'aime".

Monday the 18.06 9:58am

Me: I wish you a wonderful morning. May my love and my thoughts accompany you everywhere and ease your day, conjure the sun in your heart and conjure up a smile on your beautiful face, may you float like elves in all ways and radiate all my love, so each one in your sight can enjoy. I will continue to tinker with our future now. See you later.

Tuesday 00:27am

Me: Before I fall asleep now and give myself up in the dreams, I want to wish you a beautiful night, just close your beautiful eyes and feel like it starts with a tingling, gentle yet demanding, as this tingling reaches you everywhere, until you think you're going crazy, but that's just the beginning, let yourself be surprised and enjoy the magic that surrounds you. Sleep well my angel, a star sent by me, watch over you. I love you.

Me: Good morning darling, maybe you just wake up the moment I write this message because you feel that I'm thinking of you intensely. Have a nice day, where you will achieve everything you have planned, and I wish you, that something beautiful reaches you, which you might not have thought of. I have been working for a few hours and will have breakfast now. I imagine we have breakfast together. Have a nice day. I love you.

She: Yesterday apart from you, I realize that you accompany me in my daily life despite the distance. The smallest things connect you to me, I drink my morning coffee and think of you. I watch the sun over the sea and think that you want to share this moment with me. Everything that seems beautiful always reminds me of you ... I can not wait to meet you, yesterday has allowed me to see how close we are. But yesterday was not my wish, the internet connection was not there, but I convinced the manager and he gave in, so he then gave me the link and we will do what we have already discussed.

She: I am very happy to chat with you because you can not imagine how many times I wanted to tell you that I love you so much and always shout at you that I want to be with you forever.

Me: I feel just like you, every second. You came over me and took me by storm, brushing aside all my good intentions and shaking me. I'm completely helpless. We still have to talk about your manager, but a little later, not now, where I live the magic of your love.

Me: Thousands of times I've checked if there's a small sign of you for me. Thousands of times I was a little sad, but also a thousand times I knew that you will write me again. My love does not scream, it's just with you no matter what you do or where you are. You're there, I'm here, but we'll be together soon.

She: If you knew how much I miss you every moment. I try to imagine that you are close to me. Right now, I'm sitting on my couch, watching couples seem happy together. I see ourselves instead hand in hand. I think it will soon be our turn to do these things. I promise you that our reunion will be a real firework! "

Me: If I did not know how much you missed me, I could feel it in my soul, my heart tells me. Yes, the seemingly happy couples are a reflection of us, and yes, we will soon be one of those couples. Fireworks will start when we meet. I will start softly and gently, increase it and enjoy it for many hours without thinking of my own desire.

She: My dear, you have always been there for me, when I saw a cloudy sky, did you make me see a big blue sky. When I was alone in a deafening silence, you let me hear love melodies, I went to bed and thought about you, I woke up and thought of you, and I spent the day with a smile that did not leave my lips because I was on you thought. When I saw you, I loved you. When I spoke to you, I knew that you would be the only one who could steal my heart, and indeed I fell under your spell. I love you and I will love you forever. You make me happy.

Me: I will always put the clouds aside for you, so that your beauty can shine in the sunlight, I will always tell you sweet words, love melodies and poems, so that you never have to hear anything else. Yes, I will always accompany you, hold you, if you threaten to fall, stand by my life for you. I want to belong to you, maybe that's not the right word, because I want and will be in you.

Me: At the moment my love has completely flooded me. I do not know where up or down, whether I write this message with my hands or with my feet. Love songs are in the background, but I do not know if I'm listening to those I play or those hanging around in the air. A bird is sitting on my window and chirping love messages that can only come from you. I will not resist, but just let me fall into the bed that love has just prepared for me. Oh, how much I love you.

Me: Slowly my eyelids become heavy and my thoughts only want to dream of you and send you my love. I have no chance to continue working. I feel that something is approaching, but I will be able to protect ourselves, regardless of the distance. How much I miss you, how much I yearn for you, for your smile, for your embrace, for your kisses and your ecstasy, what would I be glad if you gave me a picture, fresh flowers would come to your every day picture stand. Incense would make the air even sweeter than it already is, and I'd probably watch it all day long. I'm sitting here in front of this text, dreaming about you and about us, but I'm going to pull myself together and wish you a wonderful and safe night. Feel my love tonight too. Let me send you a kiss now.

Me: Even if you're not online, it's a good time to wish you a wonderful, good morning. May this day begin with my love for you, for all the days in your life will begin with my love. Your beating heart will receive the love message of my heart and bring you a lightness to master that day as well. I love you and good morning.

She: You will be the land and I will be the sea or vice versa. You will be my king, my soulmate, my devil. You will be my presence and my future. Until the beginning of time our love has to last, because your arrow has touched me in my heart. You're the only one who can save me. I want you to be with me today, tomorrow, next month, next year and for the rest of my life, every day that you are away from me, my heart is in need. But as soon as you return, my great joy returns. Despite the distance to you, I think a little more every day. I love you my love.

She: You are a rare pearl, a sun that shines in my heart. I have in my heart your love, a boundless love, a sincere love, from the first glance, have you blinded me, you are the greatest wealth in my eyes, you are more precious than diamonds. I miss you my love.

Me: Yes, I will be the land you go by, the sea in which you swim. I will be everything you want. Since the first human who exists, we were already destined for each other. We were at the beginning and we will always be, because there is no end. Yes, I always want to give you joy in the heart.

Me: I am just a simple man who wants to give you all the love he has, I am not worthy to be your king, but I will serve you with joy. A pearl, a diamond, as beautiful as they seem, I never want to be, because I want to give you more than that, I want you more than just my presence.

She: My love, I do not know what to say, except that I'm happy, I had a nightmare that haunted me all night and I want you to know it because I'm very scared.

Me: Do not be scared, I will find opportunities to protect you. Would you like to tell me about your nightmare?

She: Yes, I want to talk about this nightmare.

Me: I'm listening to you.

She: I dreamed of talking to you on Facebook as I always do and I just could not write to you because an unknown person had hacked into my Facebook account, so I had to create another account and then I wrote to you, I thought, that you would not recognize me.

Me: I will always find you, I do not know how long it will take, but I find you. It is possible that your or my Facebook account is hacked despite my intellectual protection screen. You have my Hangout address. Please give me yours too. Also, it could be good if I had your email address, phone number, and correct mailing address, and more information about you, because that could help me get you through faster, or I can send you help via the German Embassy. I know about the wickedness of humanity and there are actually only 4 people whom I believe and trust. You are one of those. I do not judge what was yesterday, and I forgive everything.

Note: Hangout is a messenger service from Gmail / Google.

She: So I sent you a Hangout request, I want you to accept it and then I want us to have a password that only you and I know.

She: I see you logged in Hangout and accepted me. Thank you, my angel. Do you want me to give you my address from the Skype account because I have one that I have never used.

News History in Hangout:

You: Chattons sur Hangouts! (I still could not figure out what that means)

Me: Hello Olivia

She: Hello my "angel"

Me: I'm thinking about how we can get a password that only you and I know. Maybe I'll make a special email account that only you and I can use, or a blog where only you and I can post.

Me: I know that Facebook or Google read all the news with some bots. Maybe I will also inform the German embassy that they can inform me if you give them a special password.

Note: The idea was to have a website where she could log in and write something that no other person would notice. I wanted to give her a chance if she was harassed by a criminal group. The website on Cabanova, the password: the name of our first daughter, and my e-mail address are sufficient that you can log in there.

Who would like to try it now! The password has long been changed.

The conversation takes place again on Facebook.

She: The password must be the name of our first child, and I'll let you choose that name.

Me: Yes, I would like to have everything of you and know, I also have 3 or 4 Skype accounts that I have never used and whose password I forgot. I would be happy to talk to you about Skype and see you.

Me: The name of our first child? I will meditate on it, because my mind can not choose a name, because in the first place, you should like it too.

She: My angel, I love you very much, and I do not want to lose you, you're the only person I love, and that's what I'm telling you.

Me: You can not and will not lose me, as long as you are honest with me, if you break my heart, the whole world is lost to me. I've just begun to create something for us where only you and I have access and I'll tell you that only you and I will understand.

She: You are a man of the principle and a man of great stature, which makes me even more crazy in love with you. All I ask of you is to be by your side so that we can live happily for the rest of our lives.

Me: I know ways and opportunities for all situations that life can bring and you will soon have me by your side, also your grandmother should be by our side and have a nice and hopefully long life. Like I said, I will never really have much money, but I will be able to take care of ourselves, maybe not in luxury, but appropriate.

She: I have no doubts, because you are the man of my life and the man of my other world, because with you I would like to reach a climax, which only a happy woman with a caring man, indeed a caring man can achieve, even in sleep You leave me sweet words, upon awakening I see your messages that make me sin with my senses and that make me happy for the rest of the day.

Me: I'll always show it to you and prove that you never have to worry about the slightest doubt. I'll carry you to heights you do not know exist that you can not even imagine now. Nothing is alien to me in this world and nothing that comes from other worlds. Although it is only my words and thoughts that will delight you every morning, rejoice you during the day, and that will accompany you in your dreams, it will soon be more. How would I like to sit by the bed with fresh flowers and hot coffee or tea and a good breakfast in the morning while you wake up.

Me: You know that I am a spiritual person, so I want to build a temple of love. To honor this temple, I would like to call our first daughter Yasodora, but only if you agree.

Ich: Maybe I'll send you the login for my e-mail account later. Then you can also use klauscamper@gmail.com. I see that you are offline now and I also want to work something. Have a nice day, may my thoughts and my love accompany you, maybe you will also feel the tingling that my kisses leave on your skin. Yes, I think Yasodora will be a good name for our first daughter. "Mon Cherie je t'aime".

A message sent from me via Hangout.

Me: Do not forget the name of our first daughter. I think that I will also create a website for us to make my love visible to everyone. I think a good place for this is cabanova.com

Facebook:

She: Do not worry, my love, so let's call her Yasodora, whatever you want and that name will be our password if I'm in a bad position or my Facebook account is hacked. I love you so much and wish you a very good and adorable day.

Me: I also wrote you something on Hangout. From time to time I will also write in the temple of our love (the name of the website I have created). You now have 3 things that allow you to write to me without Facebook or Hangout. Are you sure you do not want to give me a picture of you? I love and kiss you and can not stop it.

Hangout 20:06 at 12:58pm

Note: She wrote me her postal address in Côte d'Ivoire, but without a street name.

Me: Thank you darling.

She: I have a photo, but with an intern who is at the same school. I hope you do not mind.

Me: That will not bother you, because I know that the intern is not as pretty as you are.

Note: She sent me a picture with 2 women.

Me: I look at this image and the image in your profile that you told me it was you (the woman at the computer) and I'm a bit confused at the moment.

She: Wait, it's the same, but since I'm in the company of another girl, you think I'm the one wearing the glasses, but no.

Me: At this moment, I do not know who you are. I do not think anything.

Note: She sent me a photo showing only one woman, the two of them. Which according to Google Images Search belongs to a Canadian porn actress.

Me: Pretty. So I see that when I come to the Ivory Coast?

She: I do not know, my dear. I'm just thinking about when I've finished the internship here and you come pick me up so we can live together because I love you so much.

Me: Maybe I live in Côte d'Ivoire for some time, I'm already looking for houses and apartments there.

Me: Is that the same woman (the picture she just sent me now) as in your profile?

She: That would be great, my dear, I'm looking forward to your love, but tell me how you manage to send me money because I do not have a bank account.

She: No, my dear, my profile is just pictures that I found cute and published on my site.

Me: I have to see. Maybe someone will bring it to you personally, maybe I'll bring it to you personally, maybe with Western Union or Moneygram. But first I must have the money in my hand.

Me: The second is, if your internet is too expensive because your manager is not good, I will provide another internet connection. So I ask which company is connecting, how fast is it, how much data do you have? 25MBps with unlimited data costs under $ 50.

You: My dear, you know, I do not understand, but do not worry, because what I owe my manager, I pay.

Me: I'm not worried and the manager is supposed to get his money, but if he gets so much in the future ... you're not rich and I'm not rich too. I would prefer that you buy from the money, which we could save, something nice.

Me: Maybe you can buy a nice dress with the 220 Euro, or some rings, a necklace or something.

Me: I told you, I'm looking for a house or a flat. Do you want me to look for one for us 3 (you, grandma and me)?

She: Yes, my love, but I prefer the connection to be able to talk to you every day. You know that jewels and other things do not interest me. All I care about is how I told you to be with you.

Me: Do you know a woman named Andi Land? (The name of the porn actress in the picture she sent me)

Me: Look at yourself !!! (At this point, I sent her a link where the photo was identified).

A few hours later on Facebook.

She: My love, I'm online, what are you doing?

Me: I drink rum.

She: Why are you doing this? You never told me that you drink alcohol.

Me: It's my first drink after a few years.

She: I want to know why you do that.

Me: You told me about three different pictures that you are, one of your side and two you sent me that way.

She: I want to ask you something?

Me: You can ask me anything and I will always answer with the truth.

She: Whose do you blame me?

Me: I do not blame or judge, but what should I think about it? What would you think?

She: Or am I not good enough for you? I can understand, if that is the case, because I gradually fall in love with you, but if you think that I am not right for you then I will not talk long and always stay in this loneliness and sadness, because You're the only one I can get rid of.

Me: I said that I love you and it will always be like that, but would not you be a little disappointed if you showed 3 different pictures, all of which are supposed to show you and are known on the net as Lovescams. I've set up a website where you can tell me confidentially if a criminal group is holding you. I told you that you can be an alien and I will love you, but I just want you to be honest. Everything that was before does not matter. My heart is crying, I can hardly stand the pain, so I'm trying to numb because I can not meditate today.

She: I'm not as perfect as everyone else, but I've found in you the joy and beauty of a man. I was able to forget everything that lay behind me and dedicated myself to the future, yes, the future that you are and I have planned it so that no one else fits in, but I think that's not the case, I'm not sure if you do not love me anymore, but I'm sure I'll always love you.

Me: I'm more than sure that I love you, but why, why only these wrong pictures, please explain it to me. Instead of looking for a house in Ivory Coast, I'm looking for lonely areas in Tibet or Nepal this afternoon.

She: It's all part of my past. Yes, I'm really sorry that you found out, I wanted to tell you from the moment I first told you I love you. But it was more than hard to tell you such an important thing, I thought you thought I'm what you're thinking right now, so I got scared and panicked, so I did not tell you about this shameful past. I was alone with my grandmother, here in the Ivory Coast. Now you know it, and I'm really sad that I hurt you because I love you with all my heart, and I wanted to hide this part of my life from you. I'm determined to listen to everything you want to tell me because I know I screwed it up, forgive me, my dear, Klaus.

Me: I told you that I will not judge, no matter what. I could not take away your fear of completely trusting me, so if we both screwed it up, that's not bad either, the point is how to handle it and how it goes on. I told you that almost nothing is foreign to me in the world that I have gone through all the hells, including my wife from Sri Lanka, was there by the local mafia pressure. I realize that especially women have difficulties when they are alone and sometimes have to do or do things, that is not a problem for me. I have often tried to give you the opportunity to alert you to minor inconsistencies, gently and without pressure, without anger. I told you that I can and will forgive everything. But you'll understand that I'm still shocked today. I could have felt even more honest if you had not sent me a picture today than that of a Canadian pornstar. You can have 300 pounds, just no leg, because of me, no matter, the beauty comes from the soul. My heart is almost cracked, but I do not feel anger at you. Tears are running through me without interruption ...

Me: Without this photo today, I would never have asked you for your past, even though I knew it, one day you would have come alone to tell me, and I would have closed your mouth with a kiss and said that I know the past and she does not care.

She: I can not tell you otherwise because I have tears in my eyes and I do not know if I will be a bitter, shamed woman who has to live alone or if I get a smile from a charming man. I have just been hurt without the need to ask myself this question and I can not find an answer because you are the only one who can answer that question.

Me: I can not think right now, I just know that I love you and I feel pain, I have to get my head clear, find my inner balance again. What happened is past and not important, but at the moment I am also very scared, I dare not ask for a picture of you or anything else, because maybe it would definitely mean the rest for me. You've knocked me down, but I've often fallen in my life and I've always gotten up, I'm going to get up this time as well, but I'm still battered and another blow could mean the end.

She: My love, you had to know it, and now you know it, even if it's a shame for me, because we talked about trust for a long time, and I was the first to disregard that honor you gave me, forgive me and never again will you have to complain of a mistake of mine, I really love you and I do not know if I could recover when we are not together anymore.

She: I want to promise you that I will always be honest with you and that I will not make mistakes anymore.

She: No matter how important or difficult the topic is, I'll always tell you, and nothing will be a secret between you and me.

Me: I knew it before and still have no doubt. You are not guilty and I have nothing to forgive. There is no guilt or innocence for me, because everything comes from causes and effects. Yes, I knew it just days after we spoke the first time and I could not win your trust. I told you that my love is unconditional and that I'm glad about what you give me, well, I did not think it would throw me off like this. Promises are often easily said and yet it is often difficult to keep them, because special circumstances can change something over and over again.

Me: I do not know how to deal with it, that I have failed so much. If there's a culprit, it's me. It raises doubts in me, maybe I've climbed too high and burned myself in the sun to fall like a sack on the ground. I doubt I'm really able to protect you from everyone, especially from ourselves. It would not be important to me now if you still would, as long as you do not do it with me, and then, By being with you, it would finally stop work from the past. My love is deeper than such small, trivial things, but I have to get up again, the impact was already intense.

Me: I do not know how many times I ask myself the question in the future, what the truth is, but you will not let me go that easy or so fast.

Me: Sorry the answer is a little late, but after writing I forgot to send.

Me: Do not promise me you'll do it, but promise me you'll try.

She: I promise you my love that I will have no secrets between us because you are the man of my life and in you I feel alive again.

She: I love you so much that I do not know what to do when you leave me.

Me: Just promise me one thing, that you really try it.

She: Yes, I promise.

Me: I'll never leave you, I promised you that before.

She: Thank you, my dear, now I can sleep soundly again and count the stars, see your reflection in the clouds. I love you very much, my dear.

Me: Love is the greatest power that overcomes everything and shows itself when the sky is not full of violins.

She: Do you promise me one thing?

Me: Yes.

She: Do you promise me that you stop drinking alcohol?

Me: When?

She: From now on.

Me: Darling, I'm not drinking for a few years, and I did not start again today, do not be worried. I have no alcohol in the house and therefore do not go shopping. I do not spend any money on it, I take care of many children dying of hunger, so I will not spend my money on alcohol.

She: Thank you darling, I love you.

Me: Do not thank me for that.

She: Okay, my love.

Me: I told you that I chose a life of poverty to help others.

Me: Do not you like alcohol?

She: Yes, and that makes me love you more, because not everyone has your kindness, your enthusiasm and your charisma. I want you to be with me the whole time.

She: Not anymore.

Me: When I was in this camp for two years, I found myself and my inner peace after learning more and more. I could never work as a judge, I can not judge anything. But something else. How is your voice?

She: I think she has to be cute.

Me: You know that I write books, and for a long time I'm thinking about making an audiobook, and I'm looking for a nice and clear voice.

She: I think that's very wise of you.

Me: Maybe, I always try to do something and when I come to Ivory Coast to stay with you, we also need money and an income. Do you think you can read this book aloud and record it?

She: You will have plenty of time to judge for yourself, my dear.

Me: Do you think that you can bring that feeling that you have when writing into your voice? Sometimes I am impatient, forgive me. But I want the best and fastest for us.

She: I know that my love, and that I can do it, but I think you'll have to judge for yourself when we're together.

Me: I am already unable to judge, how should I do it, when I am with you, when my eyes look at you, how can I reasonably hear? With the feeling of love you will always have the most beautiful and perfect voice. At least you should be reasonable because I can not.

She: Ok, angel.

She: You really are a wonderful and extraordinary man, I think you alone will make me happy.

Me: If my new headset comes in a couple of days, I do not know if I could call you because I'm not sure I'll get a word out because you just enchanted me.

She: All those sweet words, I do not know what to say You are a truly wonderful man who truly deserves to be happy with those who appreciate you and especially like you, like me, I love you.

Me: If you are happy, that's enough for me, because then I'm happy too. I am here in this world to bring, distribute and give happiness, love and peace.

She: You always have to know how to keep hope alive, because love often happens when you do not expect it, and it's so wonderful to know how to give and receive, and with you, I want to continue my life.

Me: What do I need hope, if I know how to make everything possible, everything is always possible, you just have to find out how. People often talk about miracles, but it's just things that fit together like a puzzle.

She: For the rest of my life I want to be your dear wife, to share the happiness with you and offer you everything from my heart.

Me: Our love will last longer than the rest of a life. And today you may have learned to understand me a little better, that I always check everything, myself included, that in my way I also address unpleasant things, but never condemn. And maybe you understand that you never have to be afraid of me, no matter what it is or what happens. I absolutely love you unconditionally, I know or see no mistakes and things that we do not like can change.

Me: Before I finish this exciting day and go to sleep, I want to wish you a good night and say how much I love you. There are many stars above you, including the one I created for you and for us, so that he always protects you so that he whispers my messages in your ear while you sleep peacefully. Sweet dreams, "Mon amour je t'aime".

Saturday 09:54am

You: Hello my love I slept well. I missed your body all night, I took a pillow in my arms to pretend to be there, but that's not enough. I need you so much every day, I need a dose of you every day! I never want to be weaned from the love you have given me. I love you even more than yesterday and yes it is possible and tomorrow I will love you even more than today (my heart will explode because I love you too much).

Me: Good morning Startail, I've just come back. I did not sleep much and thought a lot. Sometime around 4am I went outside to meditate a little in the forest. I love you, and to be honest, I'm experiencing at the moment, just a whirl of emotions, High in heaven to saddened to the death. But there I come through and it does not change my love and my plans that I will soon be with you. Have a nice day, my love will accompany you. I love you.

She: I know that life near you will be a river of love when shared, it is the most wonderful of all feelings in the world, it brings hope, joy, happiness, tenderness, complicity. You're the best thing that happens to me this year and I know the next thing that follows will be even better and I can not live without you anymore. My love, you have penetrated into my space, into my life, which will have no meaning without you, for that I can never thank you enough. You are so patient and reassuring, every day, with all the qualities you have. You offer all your love and you have given me the chance to win back the trust in me and I am happy that you have come into my life.

Me: The source, the river or lake or even the sea of pure love is always there and around us. And it invites everyone to stay there and drink or swim. It's up to us, whether we stay there or not. Everyone gets a new chance, every day. How could I accept as a human being that I am capable of condemning, you always have the freedom to do what you want, nothing will change my love. When I am with you, you will quickly find out how little it takes to make me happy, but also how fast I can get sad because I will never hide my feelings, I will always answer honestly when I am asked 'I've lived in the dark for far too long. Yes, you have every chance with me, every day and no matter what, I will be there as best I can, if this not enough, we'll learn. We met and then it went fast, you just attracted me irresistibly and I could not help but let my soul shine, which is just love and peace.

She: I want to be in your arms to tell you that I only love you and that I can not stand so far from you and I can not wait for our dreams to come true and our lives to come great wonder. I was alone in the world when I crossed your path, like a sun in the night you have enlightened my life and in the first moment you have sent me a message, you have conquered my whole being and all my love, my heart. When I'm with you and when I think about you, my life will be better, despite my problems. I still smile as soon as I see your tempting apple trees, hear your messages and sweet words, through your passion and tenderness you have enchanted my heart. You have wiped out my suffering and rekindled faith and hope for life and happiness. They say that Prince Charming only exists in novels and if I see you, I do not believe it.

Me: Yes, yes, and again, yes, how much I want to hug you, but you want to finish your studies and take care of Grandma. I have to wait until I have enough money in my hands to come to you. Maybe I could arrange something about the French Embassy, that you quickly come to me ... Maybe we are lucky, that I will get something soon, because then I could come quickly. I do not have much here, but my passport is fine. I am certainly not a prince and will never be one, I am happy as a simple servant of our love and also with the role of the joker I will be satisfied.

She: You have sown in my heart, envy, longing, love, friendship and life, my soul can not bear her silence anymore, because without you the world calls me boring and empty. Meaningless, charm and color, passion, feeling and glow, the winter in your arms will be sweet to me and your kisses, your sweet caresses, nothing can fulfill me more. I do not need you to have a prince, but I need your "being there" when I need you, and I will do the same for you. I love you like crazy and nothing can change that.

Me: I will give and fulfill everything, only envy can not and should not exist. Our souls are not silent, I hear every second how they whisper, how they dress and do not I see every second how our souls embrace each other? Winter, I do not even know if there's a winter in Ivory Coast, but what winter can do us harm if we love each other? Soon my darling, have a little patience and I like surprises, so do not be surprised if you go out one morning and a small fat old man sits at your door and smiles with a bouquet of flowers in his hand.

She: Then I will be the happiest woman, I love you so much.

She: My dear, I want you to send the money with Moneygram, because not far from my house there is a MoneyGram agency, I hope that does not bother you.

Me: I hope you recognize me because it will be hard for me if I do not know how you look.

Me: If I have the money in hand, we will talk about it.

She: Ok my darling.

Me: I do not know when you read this message, but I want it to be there waiting for you. I feel your hand for my keys, let us float away from everything worldly. Let me put aside any obstacles and hold myself a bit when I'm weak and tired. You know, my night was short and I'm a little tired, so I'll take a nap. I'll be back in 2 hours. I will immediately fall asleep with the thoughts and beautiful pictures of our future and my first thought is you, when I wake up. I love you and wait for you to write to me. I love you.

On hangout.

She: Good evening, my dear, how are you tonight? I can not log in to Facebook to see your messages, so I want you to be here with me because I miss you so much. I want you to say sweet words and to bring me a cheerful mood with your good sense of humor.

She: My love, my life, my soul, it hurts to die, there you are only in my thoughts and you are the man of my life, it is obvious because of you, I love everything and my life has no meaning without you and It's like I want to share this life with you, who are as friendly and caring as I have rarely experienced. I am with you, you are a wonderful man full of tenderness and caresses and you are my only hope, keep me with you because I need you and I want to be by your side. I think of you very much.

Note: Later in the afternoon, after my afternoon nap.

Me: Yes darling, I am here. Why can not you sign up? Hahaha, I wake up from the afternoon nap and do not know where you are first and what day it is, then I call your name aloud first, before the memory comes where I am. I can do that very well, I just found out. I love you.

She: I'm glad to see you online, my dear, because I missed you so much. I would even say that it was like an eternity for me not to be able to talk to you.

Me: Yes, you will always have a place with me, as long as you want, because my love is pure and strong, she wants to take, but she does not demand. It gives unconditionally. I have already written that after awakening I called out loud to you, you are so present in my life. Where will it lead, when I am already close to madness?

She: I'm proud of all the love you have for me and I'm impatient to find myself in your arms again, I really miss you too much, I dream of giving you a tender kiss, between my head and to conclude a truce for my heart, you bring peace and comfort to my soul, by offering me the cutest parts of your body, and without your love would not be so fiery, you tirelessly make me with your smallest attentions. Will you give me the gift of your great affection? Thanks to you, the faith and the hope has reappeared, you let me re-live great feelings, trust us that the commonality exists, nothing brings trouble, everything is so easy. My love is there.

Me: I'm almost always online, even if I'm not always on Facebook. I check every few minutes to see if you're there, if you've written something to me. It always takes me too long, although one of my names is patience. I think that if I am with you, for days on end, I will only be able to observe you and save every detail of you in my memory.

Me: I'm glad that I can and could trigger everything in you. Yes, I am here to help people, to give them comfort and hope to make them believe in love again. I especially like to do it with you because you mirror everything I do. A single hair of yours on my body would make me forget everything, because I would be so careful not to lose that hair. I can not judge how strong my love is because she knows no boundaries.

She: I want to show you how much I love you. You're so important to me that I can not express it in words, telling you what I feel to make you realize that basically nothing is more important to me than you, my dear, in your eyes I saw the real flash heaven, in your back I saw big wings your soul stole from me. You are what my heart lacks to beat. I could write every night to express my love for you, but eternity is not long enough and I miss words to say it all, but now I have everything to offer you warmth and a place in my heart.

Me: A bit of warmth and a place in your heart is more than I dared to dream of a few days ago. Now words mean so much to us because we are still secular, they will always have meaning. But wait until we can look deep into each other's eyes until we look into the soul, wait what happens then, it will appear to us as if the sun is exploding, we will see everything, the eyes take over the language and our thoughts will talk to each other, even if our lips do not move and no sound leaves our mouths.

Me: You are my sun in the night that awakens my dreams, you have done all this in a short time with me.

She: You are the air I breathe, the wind that caresses me, the rain that makes me wet, the sun that warms me, the star that guides me, the moon that enlightens me, my universe, the rose I feel, the grass I touch, the waves that carry me to distant horizons. The sand under my feet, bonds to each of your passages and your mouth that desires me, your eyes smiling at me, your hands touching me, my heart capturing me and you my nights and my days, my dreams and my desires, my strength and my sweetness, my patience and my will. I have your heart, I have your joy, I have your body, I have you and your love for me the sun shines in our hearts, passion penetrates our bodies, the stars are radiantly bright and the morning shows us the way we go side by side, hand in hand, fingers entwine with our destiny.

Me: Wow, there is not much that makes me speechless, I'm sitting here almost unable to answer, because I read your words over and over again, how pale and small, how insignificant is my stuttering. Excuse me, you left me speechless and knocked me over again. These words, how can I increase them, how can I measure myself as a human with words of a goddess? I do not know if there will be a morning, a night because they will not exist for me, time will stop because I can not get enough of you. With what did I deserve this divine love. Having suffered enough, I have compensated my bad past life with my good deeds, which I am now rewarded with. You have the power to let me grow or destroy me.

Me: I have to see where I get a working headset, then we can see each other in the video chat, here or on Skype, but I'm not sure if I can talk. I somehow feel like a teenager with his first love, restless, insecure, shy, and incompetent. And I am glad that I can experience it all again.

She: My star of kindness and more than a hope, and more than a chance, you are my tune, the sweetness of my nights, the colors of my life, happiness to infinity and I think a lot about you. These words that I have just written to you come from my heart, I can not explain what I think or replace the love that I feel for you. You are so unique that I could say that I played the lottery to get your love, but I know that even the lottery can not bring me such a profit, so I say that you are an angel who comes straight from the heaven has fallen to free me from any obstacle. I love you my angel". I love you Klaus.

Me: Yes, sometimes words start to flow, our fingers move on their own, they are guided by something much higher than our minds, when we start to think, this flow is inhibited. Yes, I know and understand that well. An angel is created by a god, did you create me in your infinite goodness?

She: Of course.

Me: Thanks, I do not know how you do that and what you do to me, but please never stop, because it feels so good, my hands are shaking with excitement and sweaty wet, I can not sit still, that letters on my keyboard dance and it's hard for me to put them in the right order.

She: My heart, my love, our love is beautiful. I want to tell you how much you mean to me, and that you are my only passion since you came into my life, my dreams and desires are being reborn. I can not live without you anymore, you are engraved on me, you are everything for me. Honey, you are my darling and I love you like crazy. I am fulfilled like never before, I want everything and for eternity, I love you and I adore you, your love is more precious to me than gold and my thoughts and my heart are there only for you and everything in me only exists out of love for you.

Me: Tell me where up, where down, right, left, is. I forgot everything and I am also afraid that I wake up and everything was just a dream.

She: It can not be a dream, because even if it does, I'll make it real so I can be with you, but if it turns out to be a dream, I never want to wake up and live that dream with you, my love.

Me: I do not know who I am or who I was. I do not know where I am. But I know where I want to be, with you, no matter where that is. I even think that it is possible that I forget to breathe.

She: Time and trust have built our love, you are my freedom, my safety and you are so nice to me that I melt when you are there and you have literally changed my life, thank you. I offer you my heart, flooded with so much happiness, it's yours forever, so I want to share my life with you. You are my sun, the light of my days and nights, you are my breath, the one who gives me life and you are my rainbow, the one that makes me see life so beautiful and colorful. You are my eternal love.

Me: Yes, let us never wake up again from our dream, because that makes it possible for us to become real, let us broaden this dream, for eternity, let us seek the limits of our love that do not exist. Let us move the mountains that stand in our way. Let me come to you and be with you .. I know that everything is possible and we can do anything, I've been teaching about it for years and yet there's nothing in my head because it's completely filled with you.

Me: It's only the beginning, and I know it's waiting for us much more. Yes, our words and thoughts enable us to float, we will overcome time and transience. We begin to remember what love really is, even though we still can not grasp the full extent, not yet, our view of love becomes clearer and freer and a little bit scares me as well.

Me: I'm scared, afraid to lose you.

Me: And again I am sad, because the thought that I could lose you, lets tears flow with me, fills me with pain.

She: They say that if you want to love, do not listen to people, because love is a story that is always written by two, let your heart speak, reject any mistrust and you will understand the benefits of life, I could never accept it to hurt you. It took me a long time to find you, and nobody can separate me from you. I love you forever.

Me: I never really listened to what people told me, always tried to go my own way. Yes, I know that one should only listen to one's own heart and soul. I had learned to let everything go, and things like fear, worry, pain disappeared. With you, I start to capture something again, I'm not ready to let you go, and with that comes the fear of losing you. I already said that you threw me off track, I left my inner center and my balance, for you and all the outer influences are bouncing unprotected against me. I did not care if or when I die, leave this body, but now I want to live forever in this present state of being, I was far away from anything worldly. I am like an angel who suddenly wants to be human again.

Me: I have dedicated a song to each person that was close or is close to me. It took me a while to find the right song for you, although it was always shown and sung to me, as I now realize. Yes, I found it.

Me: I do not know if we still write today. Here's midnight and I'll probably go to bed soon and imagine myself holding you in my arms, laying your head on my shoulder, whispering caresses, or even talking about serious issues, how we hear or how we are silent I do not mind the nice feeling of being disturbed, I imagine how you warm and caress me, how your breath breathes into my face, how your hair will tickle me, how we cling even closer, though nothing fits between us, like me find out which pats you really like, how I watch you, when the ecstasy carries you away from me for a while and you can fall asleep gently. How I look at your incomparable beauty. Have a wonderful night and later, when you sleep sweet dreams, yes I wish you dream of me. I love you.

Sunday 00:05pm

Me: Hello my beautiful, I hope you had a wonderful night and I think that you wake up at this time to or not long awake. It would fill me with joy if you thought of me. I always think of you, but I do not try to dream because I want to work for our common future. Money does not matter to me, but it is necessary at least now. You are the most important thing that has value to me and makes sense, and I let myself be driven to you by my love and longing. I want to look at you, touch you, smell your hair and gently slide your hand through your hair, gently pull my head towards me to look deeper into your eyes and I think I will not be able to prevent you kissing until we both almost become unconscious. I have to be careful because my imagination goes through with me, I have to be careful to stay a gentleman so as not to scare you. I know that everything will come true if I stay gentle and patient. But now I will try to work something. I am and will stay online and will see when you write to me, what hopefully will be soon, because I long for you.

Me: I'm meditating for a while now and will be back online in 2 hours. 2 pm local time in the Ivory Coast.

4:28pm

She: Hello my love, you are doing me well. I'm online right now and I'd like to have you with me forever because I miss you so much. I read your beautiful messages over and over again. I am a fulfilled woman who only needs you to live happily ever after.

Me: Darling, I'm glad you're here. You know what I want, you know my longing and my innermost, what I can say to you in words, but deep within me are still things that you can only see and recognize with a look in my eyes. Oooh, how much I love you. How was your night and your day today?

She: I met you and I found out how you really are. I think you are charming and very nice. I like the way you talk to me. I like the way you see things, you are so good to me, you are respectful and I always like to talk to you and I never tire of doing this because deep in my heart you are the king and nothing can I love you very much.

She: My night was perfect I was just tired and I could not wish you a good night, but I'm really sorry and this morning I had to do housework, I hope you can understand that.

Me: Mon Cherie, that's not a problem, sometimes I sit here for a long time and wait to see if you can come back online until I can not stop my eyes. But I'm glad you had a nice night.

She: Thank you my love and you, how did you spend your evening and the last night?

She: My night was perfect I was just tired and I could not wish you a good night, but I'm really sorry and this morning I had to do housework, I hope you can understand that.

Me: Mon Cherie, that's not a problem, sometimes I sit here for a long time and wait to see if you can come back online until I can not more open my eyes. But I'm glad you had a nice night.

She: Thank you my love and you, how did you spend your evening and the last night?

Me: I sat here for a long time at the computer, reading your words, starting with our first day and finally my eyes got heavy, so I went to bed. There I closed my eyes and felt you beside me, my imagination carried us both, after our exchanged caresses, in unknown galaxies, I was with you at the source, where all life arose, in their pure and clear virgin water we have bathed and washed off a lot of dirt from our past. At some point I fell asleep and was awake relatively early. I spent the rest of my work, though my thoughts kept coming to you.

She: I love you and it will be like that for a long time, and you know why I know that? Because even today, as every morning after waking up, the first thing I want to see is your face.

Me: An old and worn face with wrinkles and scars left by life, a face that can never compete with your beauty. A face that tells of life, of past lives and of the future, with my eyes so open, that anyone who looks into them can look deep into my soul, a face full of love and tenderness, a face in which reflects the grief and fear of others, who can rejoice with others and suffer with others.

She: My love. I love you and I truly love you. I do not know what I could do if I did not meet you. You bring me everything a woman can wish for and I like it. I could sleep all day if it was just for you. I can not stop loving you because you have conquered the depths of my heart.

Me: You will meet me, you are the only thing that could prevent that. I wish so much that I bring everything so I can recognize your wishes before you tell them or show I want to watch you sleep, hours and days, but I also want to feel and observe your life, your movements, how you dance, how you gracefully ride, or how you jog and I think that puts me in a special state.

She: I need you, as I need my heartbeat. I fell into a trap, a trap in your heart that stops me from breathing and that stole my freedom. You have opened your heart to me and you give me confidence for every step of my life. Stay with me for a long time. my little angel and be the man of my life. A thousand kisses .

Me: It certainly was not a trap. It was a Divine Providence, your heart called mine, and fortunately I could hear it. I'll never take your liberty because you have to decide if you want to be with me and what you want to give me, but I want to find out about everything and know you because I'm curious too.

She: My dear, I have to do some tasks. I have to leave you, but I will be back later. I love you very much.

Me: I will be here and wait for you. I love you.

00:19am

Me: Another day is over and the night begins without you being with me. I find it hard to be content only with thoughts and imagination, but I will feel your closeness, our love will carry us. Where is our journey going to today? Let's meet at the beach under palm trees or we are back on our star. When the wind gently slides over our bodies and our sweat ... we dry or dream at our source hand in hand. I think it's time for me to find out. Have a safe night and let me kidnap you, no matter where the journey goes. Feel my kisses, my hands and fall asleep gently until a new morning awakens you again in love. I love you. I think I'm ready to see you in video chat next week. Allow me to hug you once more and feel my heart beat as my blood pulsates in my veins. See you tomorrow, my star tail.

Me: My beautiful unknown, I wish you a wonderful morning. After rereading many of your words this morning, waves of love have flooded me, the desire to know what you look like has become very big. Because actually I do not know it yet. I also do not understand why you have not given me a real picture of you. Maybe you have a heart for me today and send me one. You should actually know me so well that it does not matter to me what you look like, because the inner beauty counts. Why are you still afraid of me? One day, I'll know anyway, whether with a video chat or when I look at you. I have to leave the house sometime for 2 hours, but no later than 10 clock in Ivory Cost, I'm back. Let yourself be driven by my love through the day, enjoy the beauties that meet us every day, especially because everything looks out of a loving eye, is even more beautiful than usual. I love you.

1:46 pm

She: When I saw you, I fell in love with you. When I talked to you, I knew that you would be the only one who would be able to steal my heart, and in fact I fell under your charm. When the clouds gather and the sky darkens, I know you are my protection, keeping all the dangers away from me. I want to get lost in your arms, you make me tremble in a sweet way, you're my last thought before I sleep, you're my only pleasure and my joy to smile.

Me: Hello darling, I felt a bit like that, you quickly charmed me and at first I did not want it, but you did not give me a chance even though I have not seen you yet and I have no idea what you really look like. But I know that I love you, I want to hold you in my arms, I want to kiss you and a little bit more. But I also want to sit with you on the beach, cook together, eat, watch you take a shower, and and and .....

She: My love I love you so much! For me you are the best man in the world, you bring me love, tenderness and the most beautiful things. I will stand by your side forever, my future is to be with you, your beautiful smile reflects your divine beauty. You're the only one important to me, making you happy is my priority, every second every night every day. That's what I see in my head?

Me: I will strive to read your wishes from your eyes and fulfill them, to always be there for you, but never take away the freedom you need. You should live with me by my side and at eye level. Just being together will give us a power that enchants others in our environment. Everything else loses its meaning and value with you. I see a being of pure and clear light in front of me because I lack a worldly image of you.

You: I miss your charm and your sweetness, I spend the time counting the hours until you're with me, I miss you, you're the guardian of my bliss, if you love me as much as I love you, you should feel the pain of my heart when you are not with me. I feel your presence despite your absence, I hear your voice despite the silence of the night, I feel your love despite the distance and I love you despite the suffering.

Me: To my and our perfect happiness only one tiny thing is missing and yet it is so much. It lacks the direct and physical presence. I feel a touch of loneliness, being alone, but only one touch, because your love is stronger and more present, I feel your hands caressing me, my hands becoming yours, I see you watching me, like yours watch eyes. I whisper to you, even though it's a picture on another level, tears run down my face because I do not know what you look like, because I do not know how your hands feel, how your body is tender or powerful, how you smell. No, I do not count hours, the time would go by slower for me. I plunge into work to do everything quickly and distract myself from what's missing. I love you.

5:26 pm

She: My love, I'm online and I miss you, if you're busy, I'll wait here until you come. I love you very much.

Me: I always have time for you.

She: Thank you, my dear, tell me, what are you doing right now?

Me: I'm always busy, but when I'm at home, I can free myself for you at any time. The work can wait.

Me: I chat with a woman I love, with someone who should stay in my life forever.

She: Yes, I always want to be your wife and for eternity.

She: That will make me happy, and I will be yours every time.

She: You really want me to be your wife forever?

Me: Yes, that's what I want and what I try and not just for a single life. After we die, we will also find ourselves in a new life. You are a part of my soul, but if you break my heart, I will live in every place where no human ever comes.

She: I want to be with you forever and for a lifetime, as I've told you, I never want to hurt you or break your heart because you're everything I've got right now in my life.

Me: But you're still scared of me, maybe you do not know yet how big my heart is. I will never do anything that harms you and I can forgive everything over and over again.

She: I could never doubt you and I have complete confidence in you because I love you and if I love I do not control myself.

Me: But you do not like to give me a picture of you, my beautiful unknown.

She: Not that I do not want to give you a picture of me. I just want it to stay that way.

Me: Do you think a photo would change my feelings if it's a honest photo?

She: Yes, and I wish you would always try to see a beautiful woman in me, and I do not want to spoil the surprise that I have for you when we are together.

Me: I always try to see the inner beauty of a woman, the exterior is transient and there can always be something that alters the exterior. You touched my soul, but you also missed me a scar. I will always love you, no matter who you are or what you look like. What would you do if I try to reach you now with a video call if I tell you over the weekend that I need a picture of your passport for Moneygram, or because I'm sending someone from the embassy to bring you something? I like surprises, every day brings us surprises.

Me: I hope you understand that I want to know everything about you, that I'm curious. Even as a child my parents could not hide the Christmas presents from me. But it's not just curiosity. I have learned to pay attention to little things in my life, because in this way you can avoid or avert many dangers. I have learned to be very sensitive, to notice the slightest vibration or mood change, and to question everything. I also have a good memory for a lot of things, but I can not remember faces. I'll tell you some funny stories later. In any case, I would like to know what you look like, especially the eyes, because they can tell me a lot. Maybe I can soften your heart. Tonight I will feel a beautiful creature, your soul. Tonight your soul will stroke me, give me courage and strength to work for us. When I tell one of you and ask me what you look like, I can only describe an angelic being. That has something funny. What have you done to me and where did you drive my thoughts? However, I will enjoy the night because you are with and next to me no matter where you are and what you are doing. I kiss you and wish you a magical night and wonderful dreams and an angel who comes to you and persuades you to send me a picture. I love you.

She: The stars and the moon shine, another hug, another smile, another kiss, another kiss. It's time to go to bed and close your eyes. I wish you were by my side now, in my bed with me. Unfortunately, you are far away, but that does not stop me from telling you that I love you and that I will always be there for you. Thank you. my love for everything you do for me and for the love you bring me.

Tuesday 07:18am

Me: Good morning, my heart beats with the sun and I notice that my heart seems a bit more, the birds are singing a love song that can only come from you, so everything for a perfect start to the day, but I feel threatening clouds lurking somewhere and I hope I can push it aside. I see here a light that moves around me, dancing, trying to seduce me with a love race, which touches me, penetrates me deep into the soul and I enjoy it, what should I do otherwise, because I do not defend myself can.

Me: How was your night my darling and how was your awakening? What did you first see, what did you think of first, because I can not believe it could be me. I am the humble servant of a goddess who is of pure love, who gives me her attention and yet can be so cruel that she denies her servant a wish.

Me: Let my love carry you through the day. I love you.

2:09pm

Me: You certainly work on your studies, but I would like to send you my love greetings and a kiss. I take a little bit of meditation back and will be back online in 2 hours. I love you.

She: Hello my love, I'm fine and my night was really bright because I've only dreamed of you. When I woke up and you were not by my side, I realized how much I miss you and I'm sad because you really miss me too. I love you my "angel" Ok my love, I love you very much.

4:10pm

She: My lover?

Me: Yes, my love, I'm here.

She: How are you, darling? Are you done with the meditation?

Me: When I see you, I always feel great. Yes, I finished my meditation. How was your day today?

She: He was good, my dear, because now you are with me.

Me: I always with you, even from a distance, but every second and every minute I am with you. Just as the day can not be without light, I can not be without you.

She: Thank you, my love, I love you so much and you always make me think that I am the only happy woman in the world and that I could never live without you.

Me: I'm glad that I insignificant, can make you happy with my love, but I'm just a little servant who tries to bring with his heart and soul, joy, happiness and love. I said some time ago how happy a man may be when he lies at your feet and how glad I am if I am allowed to. I will always belong to you, forever and ever.

She: Yes, my dear, and if you are happy, and tell me that you love me, then I would say that I feel like a goddess. I really love you.

Me: I searched for a goddess and found her in you. You will always be my goddess, mostly goddesses are unreachable for humans, but my love has caught your attention and I hope you allow me to approach you and that you will never tire of me. It seems to me like 1000 and 1 night, as if I were Sherazade and every night I have to continue the story without letting it end.

Me: How should I address you? With "my goddess", Mistress, Sherazade, beautiful unknown, darling or star tail, angel, sorceress, because all this, you are for me.

She: My love, you know, for me the name you give me does not matter, the only thing that matters to me is your presence with me.

Me: My heart is so restless and always wants to run away when I asked why and where to go? He told me, that I know that, it just wants to be with you to beat with your heart in harmony. It does not understand that I have to build our future, that I have to do something so that it can come to you. It just wants to spend time with you in an eternal love dance.

She: Talking to you is a time I always want to share with you until I know your mistakes and your qualities to understand you in all your actions and desires because you are the kind of man I am after have longed for.

Me: In the background are all the songs that I associate with you and I notice more and more that I do not know much about you, what your favorite flower is, your favorite color, your music, do you prefer to wear pants or clothes and much more. How I would like to know everything about you, also how you look

Tuesday 9:05pm

She: Without you the world has no meaning, my voice remains silent, in my eyes are tears that makes everything blurry, my heart stops beating, like calm before the storm. You have brought me bliss I am the happiest in your arms, it is your decision. Know that I am nothing without you.

Me: You are a goddess, with me or without me. I was allowed to hold the mirror that showed your divine countenance, I was allowed to remove the veils from the mirror, so that you can see and recognize your true beauty, which also fascinated me, everything that comes from me, everything I say or do a consequence of what you have done in me.

She: The tender words that you write to me are like birds that fly and dance in the sky of joy for me. The day we meet will reveal itself in me! Through you, I will find my way of life, which leads to serenity when two soul sisters love each other. While we love each other, the world seems to be more beautiful! With you the impossible is possible, for the future

Me: The words I write are only the pure truth and yes, the truth can carry us very high. Yes, we are forever connected in our souls and yes, the world and everything around them is much nicer in my eyes. Impossible is just an illusion, Impossible are the limits set by us, we overcome ourselves, there are no limits and everything becomes possible.

Me: I lose the overview. I do not remember what day or date we have, I do not know what time it is. My time has another unit of mass, in, are you online or offline, do you have time for me or not? Day or night, seconds or months, everything is the same and meaningless to me.

She: To have you in my existence gives me wings, to love you is an energy that gives meaning to everything on earth that one day always loves. This is the fate of true feelings between two beings who have loved each other or still love each other like you and me, my love.

Me: Love is an energy through which everything arises, everything lives and everything is. We are born of pure love and will become pure love again. The human body gives us the opportunity to live that love in this world. Everyone has their matching partner, whom you will find sooner or later, and I have found mine in you, so let's start celebrating a feast of love that is infinite, let that make us infinite.

She: I'm crazy about you. I went to my psychiatrist. He told me that my case was too serious and that the only effective drugs were kisses. "I am neither a robot or a computer with a four-hearted memory ... but loving you is automatic.

Me: I will also be your psychiatrist who will give you the medicine yourself and I am sure that a large dose of kisses will be needed for a very long time. But it also has some side effects. The image of what is around us becomes invisible, we no longer hear other people when they talk to us, we feel neither rain nor sunshine. Kissing is a wonderful medicine.

She: There is a saying that says that the days pass and are not the same. but that's not true because the days are over and I'm still thinking of you. I have the feeling that you have stolen the keys of my heart and that you have locked yourself there. I look forward to the day when our two hearts are one. On this day I will finally get to know the true happiness of love.

Me: Every day is a little different, be it the longing a little bit bigger, the love a little purer, one thought more to the other, the heartbeat changes more often. You put me on, I was dressed magically, how could I not try to woo you, conquer your heart, forgive me, I could not help it. But I also think that it was meant for us, because everything is predetermined and we can only accept it with more or less resistance. The keys to your heart are safe with me and I will give it to you anytime you want it. Our hearts are already one and the day will come, wherever our bodies are.

She: The measure of love is to love without moderation. That's why my feelings for you have only one limit, forever. I am not a great temptress, I am a romantic and loving woman who can only say words of tenderness to the one I carry in my heart. I carry in my heart, this is you my love and I do not want you to bring me back these keys because I want you to throw them in your deepest part of you because I do not want to stop loving you. I love you my love.

Me: Forever is only a time that has little meaning in love. Romance is something that I like a lot and that is important to me, but I am also convinced that you are a great seductress and a passionate lover, but I also want you to always fall into the feeling of ecstasy and let yourself drift, if I pamper you, and I'm ready to do my best. The keys to your hearts, how could I keep them so deep inside them that they become unreachable. Love can not and should never be a possession, and I will do everything that you want to do voluntarily with your love, but I will never capture or imprison you.

Me: Slowly it pulls me to bed, I follow my imagination and dream of you. I would give anything if you were next to me now, you my unknown beauty, why do you make me suffer? It draws me to where I can send my love and all the energy to you, without being bothered by outside influences, where I can try to feel my kisses all over your body, but also where I just find you in mine only to hold you. Have a wonderful night my unknown beautiful goddess. I love you and it's hard to wait.

Wednesday 7: 10am

Me: Also this morning I want to, before I start the day, the goddess of my heart, who is still my unknown beauty, wish you a nice good morning. May you succeed in this day with ease, what you have planned and a little more. Maybe there is a little bird nearby telling you about my eternal love, maybe a little ray of sunshine will tickle you and give you a kiss. Have a wonderful and charming day.

1:08 pm

She: Our bodies are far away, but not our thoughts. I love you with a love that grows day by day. It's so good with you when you lure me into your arms like with the power of a magnet, I'm embarrassed and you know I'm worried when my morale is low.

She: Always with the tenderness that lilac flowers give me, when my nights are long and I do not sleep, I think of you, but you are not there. Sometimes I'm locked up in my dreams, which are often very dark. Then you speak to me of love and I see the light of your heart, you tell me the words I expect, here is finally happiness.

Me: My heart is bleeding when I think about how far away our bodies are, but my heart is dancing too, because I know about your love for me. Yes, we are like magnets that attract each other. What can be embarrassing among lovers? How can it be embarrassing to say and live what you feel? Honesty is never embarrassing. Who makes and dares the first step, you with morality or me as a gentleman who does not say what he wants to say everything. How can I try to dispel the darkness of your nights differently than by sending my love to you all the time, wrapping my messages in everything that reaches you, in the light of the sun or the moon, in every little bird chirps to you, in the air you breathe. In everything is a part of me, of my love for you. I want you to be happy.

She: If it is necessary to suffer for love, I will have pain, if it is necessary to cry in love, my tears will flow, if it is necessary for love to go to the end of the world I go days and nights, when sweet words are necessary, I will put them on the clouds, the wind will bring them to you, that makes me forget all my worries and that makes me live the dreams of the most wonderful life.

Me: Give yourself to pure love and you will never suffer. Only our desires coupled with impatience make us suffer. We only feel tears and pain when we see love as a possession and not as a voluntary gift, but also longing can hurt. I like to cry, especially when it's tears of joy that flow safely through me when I meet you one day and look into your beautiful eyes face to face for the first time. Yes, send me your love greetings on clouds, even if I'm afraid to just stare into the sky. Our dreams will come true and real because you love me.

She: You alone make me happy, just by talking to me and understanding me, you are friendly, attentive, caring, you take care of me so well, you are tender and sweet to me. You are an angel and only do good things.

Me: It makes me happy if I can please your heart a little, and I try to express my feelings, to show you my innermost being, to be worthy of you and to be a humble servant of our love with the respect you deserve, my Goddess.

She: You are a miracle in my life, enlightening my nights and my days, you are just doing wonderful things that are only yourself, an angel who does everything to make people happy and who is just love. I love you.

Me: It is the meaning and my life's task, which I found after many years in the dark. It is the purpose of my life to give you love and happiness, to compensate you for everything you have endured in your life, to show you something that you thought you had lost. I do not know if you were brought to me or if I was sent to you, that's not important, because we met.

She: How can I describe how happy I am to know you? It is a chance for me to rejoice every day that you gave me a place in your life. Thanks for being there for me. Thank you for your existence, to give meaning to my life. Thank you, that you correspond to the dreams of my heart and the aspirations of my soul. I will give everything to see you. I will give everything to not disappoint you.

Me: Let me tell you everything that I feel for you. Let me give you an idea of the depth of my love for you.

Me: A free place for you in my life, has been forever waiting to be taken by you. Finally you're there. I am grateful that you honor me with your attention. Yes, give me whatever you want to give me, I'll gratefully accept it and be happy with it. You know my biggest wish and you know my second biggest wish. The greatest will take a little longer to be fulfilled, the second is up to you if and when you will fulfill it. But that will not change my love for you.

She: Your love is so powerful that it gives me wings. The power to move forward, to meet the worries of daily life and to smile about life. I draw my life in your smile and in your good mood, in what I read at the end of your sweet words, which I see every morning to lighten my day. I think and I know that I love you to the death.

Me: The closer we get to pure love, the stronger its power, the smaller our ego becomes, the more pure love becomes. If one succeeds in being and remaining fully in love, all other worldly and perishable things become small and unimportant, for pure love is everlasting and indestructible. Love survives and overcomes death. Your pure love and my almost pure love carry an unimaginable power in them that will never destroy, but only causes good. To have peace with yourself and with all to radiate that. What could cause others to seek her. We can also bring healing to the injured souls. We can do so much in love.

She: I love it when you write to me with love, like an angel giving yourself a beautiful starry look, that look that blinds me. I need you. I need you to love me with you. I look to the future.

Me: My darling, how could I write differently than what I feel, especially for you. My world is sky blue and I could embrace the whole world. We are on a beautiful journey and a paradise is like a small storage room. I do not know what we are still discovering, but I know that we still have much to discover and one will be more beautiful than the other, and that is only possible through you and with you.

She: Thank you my love for these sweet words and I know that they come from the depths of your heart.

She: I often miss the words to express all the love I feel for you. Yes, I miss those words, sweetness and tenderness, to tell you how much I value you a little more each day in my life.

Me: My words and feelings are and come from much deeper than the heart, the heart is just an important stopover.

Me: What else can I experience when you tell me that you lack words, which words are sweeter, more tender, more loving than the ones you tell me every day?

She: I am only happy that you are with me, because this makes me the happiest woman when you are present. I love to feel your warmth all this happiness, that I feel to see you, to talk to you and to write sweet words You are my life, my heart, with you I feel so lucky, never let me go far away from you, you are my great love.

Me: I will always be by your side, no matter where my body is, no matter if you send me away, my soul and my heart will be with you forever and try to make you happy, to give you love, joy and sunshine to protect you from everything that might not be good for you.

She: You my heart, you are my half who has shown me that happiness lives with you, you enchant me, my love. I love your tenderness and your humor How can I live without you? The days that have passed leave marks in our faces and scars in our hearts. But the past few days make us better and more aware of the importance of the people who love us. I love you my love.

Me: Do not you want to tell me more about you, my unknown beauty? Which hair color do you have, which eye color, is your pretty nose rather small or big, how are your lips, narrow or full, what flowers, colors, music, do you like, what is your favorite film? Do you still want to hide from me or not give me a picture of you, how can you be so cruel to me? I will find out, but it would make it easier for me to bring something special for you when I come.

Me: If not every trace, every scar on our body is something special, every scar has a story that has to do with us. I would like to kiss all your scars and maybe feel the pain you have long forgotten in me, I want to live and experience your whole life, starting with your birth, because only then can I be sure that I understand everything correctly and still better to lovingly lead you to the highest levels and the farthest points.

She: Without words, love does not exist, it is a construction of words. You and I are connected with these words expressing our feelings, we have been defeated and united by love. A small key opens big locks, little words can express great feelings and your little smile makes me live the biggest and most beautiful dream.

Me: Yes, words were and are important to us and they will always accompany and enjoy us often. Words can be very powerful. But there is something deeper and stronger than the words that come from our lips. These are the eyes, the emotions that are achieved through the deep eye contact, they are many times stronger and often make us speechless and there is more that makes us even more aware of love. I know many secrets that I want to share with you and many who do not need words, eyes or hands.

She: In my being there is a secret place where I preserve the most precious love and true feelings. There I keep my love for you. It's hard to tell you just how much I love you with just one message. My love is so strong for a simple message from the day I met you, life is not so hard for me anymore, I smile more. Because I have you in my life, my dear.

Me: You have many mysterious places in you that we both will discover, even where you will realize that I and my love have always been there for you, even before you were born (by the way, I do not know your birthday), we were already destined for each other. But the day of our worldly encounter is approaching. How happy I am. For many years I have been able to wait patiently, but the closer this day comes, the more impatient I become.

She: I am a slave to your angelic face, your smile, no matter how much it costs, I would give more to stay with you. I have so much love for you that nothing and no one in the world can convince me that heaven is anywhere else than yours. I'm not afraid as long as you're with me. I want to dedicate my life to you, one way or the other, I would die if I ever had to leave you.

Me: I certainly do not have an angelic face, it's enough if you have one. My love is infinite and will be eternally safe for you, even when my body is used up and has to go someday. I am old. But still, my love will still be with you, and I want to show you how you can be happy, even if my body is no more, I want to show you how we always keep in touch and find ourselves in the hereafter, but the years until then, I want to prepare heaven for you on earth.

She: You are the Prince Charming. I dreamed of meeting you since I was a little girl, you are the man of my life. I can never forget my love for you. I love you so much! For me you are the best man in the world, you bring me love, tenderness and the most beautiful things. I will stand by your side forever.

Me: With you, it's easy for me to be Prince Charming, the words flow from me on their own. Words that I have never used before, words that I have never spoken to, they are like a tool, a funnel of my feelings, my love for you. The words are just there. I want to kiss the ground you walk over, everything you touch, hug everyone, meet me and tell everyone how much I love you, even if you are cruel to me.

Note: At this point she has sent me many laughing smileys.

Me: You laugh and my heart bleeds, you my beloved and cruel unknown beauty.

She: I'm not cruel to you, why do you say that, you know that I love you and I'll always love you.

Me: No, you are not cruel, but you make me fidget with my curiosity like a fish in the dry. Do not you understand that I want to know everything about you, that every detail interests me burning, that I almost die, because I do not know how you look, what your favorite colors are, if you have a dimple, which flowers I can give you. I love you, no matter who or what you are, but I want to give my thought a form, a form here.

She: My favorite color is blue and I have no favorite flower.

Me: Thank you, honey. Now I have 2 answers and many thousand questions and I ....

Me: I know that I find out everything, but it's hard to wait. Forgive me for my curiosity.

She: No, I understand you, that's great

Me: Thank you, I love you. I apologize anyway, because I never wanted to press you. Driven by my curiosity, which I can not control, I do it anyway.

Me: First I wanted to go on, because if I get 2 answers, it's possible to get more, but now I feel guilty and bad somehow, a deep sadness overcomes me.

Me: I do not know if you come online today and read my messages. But it's time for me to overcome my sadness, forgive me. But now I want to wish you a wonderful night, I send you all my love and many stars, so they bring you all my kisses. I love you above all.

Me: ..... my beauty

She: My love, I imagine your little eyes closed, to dream of our reunion with the love of my life, I want to be near you, listen to your heart, how it beats slowly, hear your quiet breath, your neck kiss and and I whisper in your ear that I love you more than anything else. Good night my darling.

9:46 am

Me: Good morning, my darling, my one and all. What have you done to me, how did you enchant me? I have always been a bit crazy, but now it will take on frightening proportions. Lying in bed at night, tired and yet unable to sleep, my thoughts can not calm down, it's all about you. Get up again and see if you left me a message. Yes, there was one of you, a beautiful one, who brought me and my thoughts, peace and balance. Read your message and go back to bed with a smile. I was still dancing with you, in my thoughts and sending you all my love, before I fell asleep happily. Thank you, my divine sorceress. I feel a little like Odysseus, who was lured on the way home by the siren song that enchanted him and his companions. Are you a siren and am I not on my way home? No matter, because I love you and I want this day to be the most beautiful of your life so far. Until later, my sweetheart.

She: I'm usually patient. But I do not wait to long to meet you and applaud the beauty of your being. What I find most beautiful about you is your authenticity, your way of being always natural, your true nature in everything you say and in everything you do. We have talked about our feelings here for several weeks. Without you, I will only be a shadow of myself. It will be so dark in my head that even the sun will feel blind. Without your love, without your intense presence, I am blind and looking for the meaning of my life.

Me: Hello darling, finally you are there. Today I have been waiting for you again. Patience is one of my names, at least until now. With you, my curiosity is so great that I can not wait to meet you and find out everything about you. Yesterday, you learned something about my impatience. To be always authentic, open and honest is easy for me because I do not care what others think or say about me. It's even easier with you, because you're showing me and saying that you like that about me. My love will always be with you, so you should be the one who gives shade, the one that makes you shine inside and also carries it outward. To recognize the real meaning of life, we, you and me, have come a big step closer. How was your day today?

5:05 pm

She: My love I'm online now I was not there because I had to do some tasks, but now I'm yours. I hope you are not mad at me. I did my homework earlier today.

Me: Darling, I noticed. I am already aware that you also have other tasks and can not always be online, is the same with me. I'll never be mad at you no matter what you do. Nice that you are here again.

She: Thank you, my love, I really love you and I am happy that you are also in love with me because I do not know what I would do if you were not in my life.

Me: It does not matter what, if this or that. You are there and I am with you, that alone is important and we will write and live a love story that has never been lived or written.

She: Do not worry, darling, but tell me, how was your day today.

Me: I woke up with a blissful feeling of love, then lay down a bit to pursue my thoughts and dreams. I did not want to let go of the dream of you yet. The usual routine, bath, breakfast, then some errands outside, a little worked. Meditation, lunch and then worked again. Always with a smile on my face that you conjured up to me. In between, keep checking Facebook to see if you're online. A nice and quiet day, with the feeling of your love in me.

She: I like the feeling that I have become dependent on you and when I do not see you, I feel sick, your presence gives me a feeling of divine protection, which I love so much.

Me: For me, it's important to give you a sense of freedom that you know, that I always love you no matter what you do and that I always try to protect you, if need be, even in front of me. In addition, I try to get divine help and use the laws of nature that are not so well known on Earth

She: It goes straight to my heart, my love and I know that you would always take care of me.

Me: Where should love go first, if not directly to the heart and then into the soul. Yes, I will always look after you, pay attention to you and show you the necessary respect, as befits a servant and slaves of love. What other task could I have, if not the one, to make you happy, if not to love and protect you.

She: Thank you, my dear. I am pleased that you are saying this because you are the man of my life and the man of my life after that you really want it, because I will continue to love you after this life.

Me: Yes, you will and I will, we are destined for more than just a life and nothing will be able to separate us or keep us from it, because for us our love is not only the worldly love, it comes from the source of eternal life, from that everything was created. You know that I am a spiritual master, because I was allowed to look behind the secular curtains and learned to understand.

She: I know my love and I trust you, you are everything I have in my life and I feel safe with you.

Me: I promise you. But I do not know if I always have the thoughts of a gentleman when we are both alone.

She: Really?

Me: I'm sure.

She: Do not worry, my dear.

Me: I'm not worried about that.

Me: But even there, I will not force anyone to do anything. I will show you what I like and leave it to you, what you will give me.

She: I know you little rascal.

Me: Not really.

She: I love you my angel.

Me: Thank you, my goddess, I love you too and my life is yours.

She: Mine is also yours, so we are made for each other.

Me: We are more than just made for each other, we are destined for each other and I will try to fulfill the divine plan for ourselves.

She: Thank you for everything you do for me, my love, I love you and I will not stop doing it.

Me: Everything I do is something that is good for me. It needs no thanks, it is the purpose of my life, and when one day I will see your beautiful and happy eyes, I will melt away with love. I just want you to be happy.

She: Then it is a perfected thing, because I am the happiest woman in the world, if I have you by my side.

Me: I will try every day to make you always a little more happy than the day before. Always loving a little more, you are already incomparable and unique, but I am also like an artist who inspires and drives your beauty.

She: I feel and I think that I already am. Yes, I am a goddess because I have all the attention and love I need from you.

Me: You have and you get what you radiate, everything we do somehow comes back to us. Yes, you are a goddess and I am grateful to serve you, I am a mirror of yourself. I said a while ago how happy the man may be, who lies at your feet, and I am the happiest man when I see it may be.

She: Then you will be the happiest man because I love you.

Me: Yes, yes, that's me. I only feel happiness, love and peace and could embrace the whole world.

10:09 pm

She: Thank you. I'm like angels and it's like living in heaven.

Me: You are a goddess and many angels serve you, but the place of residence heaven or better universe remains the same. Without you I could not say all my words, they would wait for you until you come and get them out of me.

She: Heartache is like a pain in the air that leads to defeat. A shadow on the wall without you is too hard. I feel your presence despite your absence. If all men knew what they said about each other, there would not be four friends on this earth. Love, I miss you a little bit more each day. Distance separates us, but our feelings bring us closer.

Me: Love never hurts, she just wants the one you love to be happy. Pain is not caused by love, but only by one's self, which wants to receive something for love. How often are the most beautiful things hidden in the shadows and in the dark, why are we afraid of the dark, for these only want to be loved too, like everything and everyone. Love knows no distance. Love loves simple, free, independent and unconditional. I want to show you this love, so that it shines in your face, until you are just love and feeling too, until you realize that everything else is transient and that only love survives everything. Yes, we are close and when I open my senses, I can feel, smell and taste you. You are with me without a physical body and I can perceive everything as if your physical body were with me.

Me: A long day is drawing to a close, but that should not stop me from telling you how much I love you, even though you're still my beautiful stranger. I know that you are the most beautiful and precious that ever lived on the earth. The chance to meet you is like winning 100 million consecutive times in the lottery, and I still find it hard to believe that you've selected me from millions of men. Is it a dream or a reality or a dream come true, no matter what it is, I love you and am the happiest person there is. Allow me now, that I wish you a good night and tell you that I already long to talk to you again, to read your messages. Also tonight, I will feel you as your breath blows over my face and feels our arousal, which can never really be satisfied, because it is constantly rekindled. How much I love you, how much I want you and how much I miss you. Allow me to send you dreams that go beyond what you have come up with. Feel my embrace and kisses until you fall asleep gently and protectively. Good night darling, I love you.

Friday 7:52 am

Me: How can the morning begin more beautifully than with a picture that shows me a beautiful smile, a beautiful woman, who then wakes me with a gentle hug and a passionate kiss, with the sunbeams from their hearts and the song of the birds. Even if you are not here, I see it clearly in front of me. I will feel your kiss all day on my lips and everyone will see how happy I am.

Me: That's why I want to wake you with a smile and a gentle kiss. There is hot coffee and a breakfast next to your bed, sunbeams from my heart make your beauty radiate, and I want you to share my smile with me all day long. Good morning, my divine queen.

She: A new day is like a white sheet. Fill it with colors and smiling characters! Imagination to create the most beautiful drawings! I'll send you virtual crayons to beautify your day so that you can think of me all day long. I love you my angel"

Me: Hello my eye star, we missed each other for a few minutes. I'm just coming through the door. Thanks for the crayons, but no crayons in the world can really put your beauty on paper or meet her. I have created a virtual being that is a likeness of you and accompanies me everywhere. When I go to a shop, people stare at me when I open the door for you. I think they can not see you and their looks amuse me. I love you.

4:06 pm

She: I love you too, my love, and I will love you forever because you are the love of my life.

Me: It makes me so happy to hear these words from your sweet mouth, for even if you write them, I hear the creature beside me, as your words read to me.

She: I say so and I'm so sure I want to call it from the rooftops that I'm in love with you and that I'm absolutely happy. I really love you.

Me: Sometimes, when I'm out there, I'm overwhelmed with the desire to simply embrace strangers, kiss their cheeks, and say, "Yes, she loves me, the old fool, I dreamed and dared it, I have one Ask for the happiness that I feel through your love to share with everyone.

Me: Come to me, sweetheart, come very close and close your eyes, it's time for your medicine.

She: Thank you, my dear. Thank you for all the love you have shown me. I do not know what I would do without you. I always thank you for loving me and supporting me, even if you are far away from me, but I know you live in the depths of my being.

Me: I thank you, that I can show you all my love, I want and will be the patch and the healing of all your wounds until there is no scar left that you can see and feel until you finally become that you were, an immaculate soul. I can only do that with your help, your love and your trust. You once told me that no one is perfect, I will show you that you are perfect, I will make you fly higher and higher, but slowly and patiently, so that you get used to the height and are not afraid. I get very nervous when I think about what I want to give you and show you. And I will smile as you discover miracle after miracle, your beautiful eyes get bigger and bigger. Trust me and let us fly together.

She: Thank you my love. Thanks for all those sweet words. I trust you and I know that I will always be a happy woman with you. I love you with a pure and sincere love. I love you.

Me: Even though I can grasp all my feelings, all my love, my honesty, my longing, and my desire for you in those words that can be very powerful, they are and remain only words, even if I have never met them in this one form said. How will it be if you can hear these words out of my mouth and look me in the eye while holding my hands or I will stroke you, gently kiss your eyes and forehead, embrace you.

She: I'm just sure of one thing, that I'm the one who loves you and that you love.

Me: Yes, you can be sure, I love you, and I'm sure that you like our love, the many unforeseen possibilities, our highs, but also the simple peace and exploration of a shared silence and discovery. I will spoil you always and everywhere, I will show you a sea of happiness and love.

7:31 pm

She: Thank you, my dear. I too would like to do all these beautiful things when I have the opportunity to tell you again and again that I am madly in love with you and that I can not live without you.

Me: I think you could live without me, even if it was hard, but why should you, because I'm yours forever. We will do many beautiful things together and experience. I will not rest and try to please you again and again in every moment, to make you happy again and again, even if we can not hold the individual moments, I would like to create and experience new beautiful moments with you again and again.

She: Thank you, my dear. I'm glad you say that and I think so too.

Me: I will not sing you love songs, because I sing terribly, but caresses I whisper without interruption, unless you close my mouth with a kiss. Again I fight against my curiosity, I want to ask you so many questions. In any case, I have already painted many pictures of what our future might look like. I'm a Virgo from the zodiac and they like to plan.

She: If you love someone, you need him every day and you always feel the need to be with him. And if for some reason there is a distance, it makes you sick. I want you to be with me today, tomorrow, next month, next year, and for the rest of my life. I miss you so much, my dear.

Me: I live alone for more than 5 years and during that time I never felt lonely, now with you everything is different. We have known each other for a few weeks and my yearning and loneliness have grown immeasurably. After the last 5 years, I feel the first pain again because I miss you by my side, because I do not know when I can finally be with you. I no longer have peace because I miss you, I have become human again.

She: A request: take care.

A wish: do not forget me.

One truth: I miss you.

Reality: I love you.

Me: Sometimes love is also helplessness. No, that is wrong. A human with his ego and his desires is sometimes helpless. I have left my inner peace to win and receive your love. I lost myself in you, I gave you the power to make me happy or destroy me completely. Your lure was to great a temptation for me and there is no going back, I do not want to go back either. I do not even remember who I am and what I acquired with a great deal of pain and meditation, that I saw as the truth, that letting go of all dependencies brings peace in you. I wrote in one of my books. "No more true, but not lied, the true only makes room for another true, no, I will not forget you and I will do anything to come to you or bring you to me, although I do not really care much about I do not know how well I can take care now, but I know I love you, and that I only want you, everything else around me is unimportant at the moment. "You said I was a man of principles and I start to throw my principles overboard without hesitation, please help me.

Me: Am I like a goldfish in the shark tank or just scared to fly too high?

She: I have in my heart your love, boundless love, sincere love, you have blinded me at first sight, you are the greatest wealth in my eyes, you are more precious than diamonds, which I sought in my heart, I seek those Answer in the depths of my soul I will find her.

She: The answer is right in front of me in the light of your smile, in the charm of your gaze, in the sweetness of your caresses, the answer is right in front of me. I now know why I love you, my heart beats faster if you write to me. I feel on a cloud as I read your messages. I feel on a rainbow.

Me: I love your words and I talk about them. At the moment I can not think clearly. I am afraid of myself. I know that I love you, that is fact and irrefutable. I know that I only want to be with you, absolutely sure. And now it gets harder. I know that you also love me because of my principles and clear line, when I start to ignore my principles, to throw them overboard, I miss a point that has brought me your love. I have a little devil on one side and an angel on the other shoulder and I do not know who is who now.

Me: I know that I'm crazy (especially to you) and I know that I'm not a simple person either.

Today you see another, another facet of mine.

She: Not only for these reasons I tell you, the most important thing is that I love you. You are my love, I have chosen. Yes, I have always dreamed of you. I just want to be with you and throw myself in your arms and rest in your arms, wherever I go, no matter where you go, I live in your smile, I die, if you're sad, let nothing stand between us.

Me: The simplest thing would be in this moment, if you just hugged me, it would make any word superfluous. For years, I know no such longing, not so strong desire. But I'm used to looking at and questioning everything from as many sides as possible, especially myself. I also love the sadness and always have moments when I live it, do not worry about it. On the one hand, I think it's important that we are financially protected a bit when I come to you (a principle of mine), on the other hand, my desire, so great, that I could walk tomorrow to walk to you, no matter if I have a euro in my pocket when I am with you (by the way, I have already done something similar) There is nothing between us or my love for you. I am so impatient, full of restlessness. Even though I see and feel an angelic being here, I want to have a real human image, not only to feel the touch, but also to see how you touch me. As a human, not as the divine being. But you will still be my goddess.

Saturday 00:16am

Me: I will always be honest with you, especially as far as my feelings are concerned. It may not always be nice, but I must also be able to let myself fall, reveal my weaknesses. I'll never hide anything and it's not always easy with me, be aware of that.

Me: I'm sitting here and the tears are flowing and I do not know why. There are no tears of sadness and there are no tears of joy, I hear beautiful love songs and other songs, sad songs, even happy songs, but none can reach my current mood. I do not know what it is because it is completely new to me.

Me: I need you so much, especially at this moment, My yearning tears me apart. I trust you blindly, and nothing will stand between us, neither my experience nor anything else from any side. I love you and I long for you, your closeness would be enough for me. But enough melancholy. Let me wish you a good night, my love is with you, maybe I would not be a good lover tonight, but hey, not bad, we are still physically separated. Let me hug you anyway and lie down next to me so I can protect you. Have a nice dream, sweetheart.

10:32 am

Me: I can not imagine what it was like a few weeks ago, when I did not think about you every morning, talked to you, told you how much I love you, where the birdsong did not interest me so much. I always try to imagine how you are still sleeping, and I watch you wake up with a smile, put your arms around me, and then gently pull me down for a good morning kiss. I wish you a wonderful morning and an even better day. I am with you and my love are also with you. I love you.

3:57 pm

Me: I'll send you a kiss. Only in between. I love you.

She: Whatever happens, you are and you will always be the most beautiful gift of my life, my love, I love you more than anything I hear your heartbeat, it makes me better and calms me, I am huddled in your arms, I love you more and more, I can not stop thinking of you every day, your love is indispensable to me and your presence with me is irreplaceable, as I often say and I never get tired of it, you are the person I like the most in the world and it is that I want to spend my whole life with you because you are good, I am good, when you are sad, I am sad when I look at you, my face lights up, my heart beats faster. I love you above all.

Me: I love you and my longing gets stronger and sometimes I can hardly bear it. You know that I'm a sensitive person who cares for poor people who have nothing. I see a lot of misery every day and sometimes when I'm sad or even crying, that's good, because that shows me that I feel and not dull. So do not be sad when I am sad, rejoice with me about it and hold on to these moments, because you give me everything only with your presence.

She: Ok my love, I will never be sad and I will always be happy, even for you, I make you happy because I do not want you to be sad one day. I want you to enjoy your whole life and I never see sadness in your adorable face.

Me: I will not be able to hide my phases of sadness, but they usually do not last long, sometimes just minutes and sometimes 1-2 hours. It's just something my friendship wants. So I give a little attention and then let it go. Do not worry about it. Because i will love you forever.

She: Ok my love I believe you and I trust you more than I trust myself because I've fallen in love with you. I love you.

Me: Today, with Google Earth, I've seen the area where you live.

She: What I want to tell you about my love is that I do not want to live here anymore. I want to be with you.

Me: Do you and your grandmother have a French passport? What about your internship?

She: Yes, my dear, the internship will end at the end of August and I do not want to be here anymore because I want to be with you.

Me: If you have a French passport, there will be no problem for Germany. I will arrange something with the French Embassy for the flight ticket.

She: Do not worry, we'll talk about it later, so now tell me how you spent that day.

Me: Most of the time I thought of you and our future. Our future painted with your crayons.

Some housework ,that I do not really like and therefore I do not often, but sometime it has to be. Somewhat different work on my books. And I was glad that you came online at the very time when I sent you the kiss in between. May you tell me about your day, but I will not ask.

She: I love you. I went to class today and I did not feel well because it rains here and it tires me.

Me: Yes, I know that too when the sky is gray in gray, but when it's really raining, I even like to go for a walk in the rain. And with the knowledge of your love I want to dance through the rain and sing in the rain.

Hangout: Saturday evening around 8:00pm

She: My love?

Me: Darling?

Me: At that moment, I thought of you.

She: I think of you, too.

Me: That must be the magic of love. Afternoon I send a kiss and you come online, now I think of you and you come back online. Is your work finished for today?

She: No, but I wanted to see you, my dear, because I really miss you.

Me: I miss you too and I do not know if my love or my yearning for you will take care of my last thought.

She: I'm not feeling well and I really need you. I think it's because I miss you so much that I'm not feeling well.

Me: I will try to send you even more love, to concentrate my energy even more on you, maybe you only feel something that concerns my health. What can I do to make you feel better? Probably we will be together on my birthday when your internship ends in late August. 2 months that appear to us so long will pass quickly. I'm just surprised it's like we've known each other for many years. I think we do too, our souls knew much earlier that we belong together.

Me: Honey, I just fell asleep at the computer and my cold makes it hard for me to stay awake. I will sleep a little. I do not know if you will come online again today. Even if I look again in 2 hours, if you are there, I wish you a wonderful night. All my senses are focused on you and constantly send you messages, caresses and love for you. I imagine how you come to our bedroom later and put you next to me, cuddle up to you and hug me. Even though I am not capable of any great passion today, I will gently stroke you until you fall asleep. Let us dream together. I love you.

Facebook Sunday 10:31am

Me: Let me send you a little bird that tells you about my great love and an almost unbearable yearning. He should sing a love song so that you can enjoy the whole day. How are you, I hope better than yesterday. Good morning darling, I love you. Even today my love, my thoughts and my wishes will accompany you.

1:23 pm

Me: hello honey, I do not know when you're back online. I hardly slept last night and will retire a little. I'm back at around 2:30pm of your time. I love you and I will immediately feel your presence immediately. See you soon, darling.

She: The day starts, I send you a kiss on the forehead to start, other kisses will follow. I just woke up and I think of you, your night is over, mine too. Life begins again, my heart beats a little more for you every day, I was born to meet you, my life began when my eyes met yours, you are my destiny, the one I have always dreamed of. I love you as I want to burst bubbles from bubble wrap. I love you like a kid loves to cuddle. I love you naively. Like a teenager. I just love you.

Me: It is said that the one who sleeps does not sin, but thoughts and dreams do not always abide by it. Hold my forehead, it is very hot. that comes from your hot kiss, which is deeply branded there. Love makes us children, makes us free and carefree, lets us play together until the adult's passion comes over us. I've already told you that I'm actually quite self-confident, but I'm starting to stutter with you, if I even get a sound, I tremble with nervousness, wait with tension and a little fear on your reactions, my hands are bathed in sweat and I can not sit still or stand still. I walk around like a caged lion looking for his freedom. Only in your arms will I be able to be calm and relaxed. All of this causes my love for you.

6:54 pm

Me: Hello darling, and again I'm so overwhelmed by the longing for you that I can hardly bear it, I need you, your presence, your smile, your hugs, your kisses, your looks and your love. I wish you a nice evening and enjoy what you are doing right now. I think of you and love you.

She: Good evening, my love, I'm online. I'm sorry I hurt you, but I was busy right now, but I'm here now.

Me: Darling, you have not hurt me, it's our separation that hurts me, my unfulfilled yearning for you. I am happy that you are here.

She: I'm also very happy to be online with you because I really missed you. I spent all my time thinking about you. I love you so much.

Me: I'm always a bit split. One half only dreams of you, always whispers caresses, wants to hug you, kiss and caress. The other half tries to concentrate on the work, but often fails. You have enchanted me or bewitched me and I feel great joy about it.

She: I would say the same thing, because love is very big. I would even say that it is huge, so do not think that I want to hex you. It's just the fate we're there telling us a thousand times a day that we like each other.

Me: Love is a magic and whoever meets it can not escape. If I say you have enchanted me, bewitched me, made me crazy, then is this a compliment, something that I like. If the right words are missing, we use others. Even though I still do not know much about you, what I know and what I feel is enough not to resist you. Why should I even try it because you make me happy? If I tell you a thousand times a day that I love you, it's still ten thousand times to little.

She: I am very glad to know that you love me at this point because for me I am like your goddess and it is my pleasure to say that I love you and that I want to live with you all my life, yes All the rest of my life with you in the good and bad times, I know that there will not be a bad time because you are a man of your word.

Me: I have never given any promises recklessly and thought very hard what I promise. I can also be very stubborn, especially if I keep my promise and redeem it. I promised myself. I love you and will always love you unconditionally. I know that maybe I am not always easy, especially when I feel my feelings like sadness. But I no longer feel feelings like, anger, envy, jealousy, fear or strife. Only sadness, joy and love are in me. You have the power and the opportunities to do whatever you want with me, and I've put my life on your love. In poker, you could say "All in", at roulette "Rien a plus" Only it is more, because the mission is my life and I have decided to blindly trust you.

She: I am glad that you say that because you are my reason for life and if one day I would not be able to talk to you anymore, I will be the dissatisfied woman because I spend all the rest of my time Life will think of you.

Me: You will always be able to talk to me (I just can not always answer when I see your beauty that makes me speechless) even after my body dies, I will show you and teach you to read my love messages also from the hereafter, to receive and understand them. I want you to be by my side, I can pamper you. You my beautiful goddess of love.

She: Talking to you is a moment of joy that I want to share with you all the time, until I recognize your faults and your qualities, to understand you in all your actions and desires, and what you seek. Some time ago I thought a lot about you during my sleep. You give me cravings, I want to stroke your hair, your pretty face and your sweet messages let me live a unique moment. I would always be able to talk to you and spend the whole day without you annoying me.

Me: I will fill your days with sunshine, be a good and loving partner at any moment, even if your mood is not so good, once you get up with the wrong leg. I will comfort you when necessary, and raise you, giving you courage and hope. I will never hide anything from you, always show my feelings and desires openly. How often do I paint my life, the days and even the nights with you and how often do I long for the yearning for you.

She: I will never leave you, whatever the future brings, you must know that my love is faithful and reserved only for you. Please believe me, when I tell you I'll never leave you, you mean too much for me, I've waited too long to have a relationship like ours, and I want nothing more than you. All the dreams I had about what love should be can not be compared to what I experience with you now. I love you tenderly and forever when I think of both of us and share our hopes, dreams, joys and concerns with you. We will never end.

Me: I will never be rich in money, but I will always be able to take care of you. The true wealth comes from within and means love and I am the richest man in the world, our love will never reach a limit, because there is no limit to love, when it rains, I will dance with you through the rain, I would challenge lightning with the knowledge that he will never hurt us. I do not know how I will spend the 2 months until you finish learning, but I know that what is already so great and unique is increased many times over.

She: I have made you a commitment, life is not easy, I know it, but together to be one, you and I can overcome all difficulties.

She: We are getting old by accepting bad times like good ones, hoping, praying and doing our best, loving each other and caring for one another. Things are not always perfect between us, by far and different from social life, but you will always be one, my only love.

Me: Together with our love, with trust and honesty, we will have no hard times, no real problems because they dissolve when we meet them with love and laughter. You did not impose any obligation on me, I did it myself, quite voluntarily and with great joy. Yes, we will grow old together and even if I am over 100 years old, I will walk with you holding hands, maybe not quite so far, but we will do it. In the same way I will kiss you with 120 as lovingly as it will be with our first kiss.

Me: Hello my love, I do not know if you come online again today. My cold is causing me a bit, so I'm in my bed now to snuggle up to you, even if it's just an angelic nature. I will look at you and touch you, smile at you and explain and reveal my love again and again. With my fingers, you gently drive through the hair, until I live with you on another level our dream. I miss you and I long for you. See you soon, darling. A nice evening and later a sheltered night with beautiful dreams. I love you.

Monday 08:54am

Me: A restless night is over and yet I wake up with a joy that can only come to me from your love. I smile at the birds and listen to their singing, sunbeams warm my face from the outside, your love warms me from the inside. Another night is over when you have not lain beside me, but that night has also brought us closer to the point where we are finally together. A paradox of love is when we love so much that it hurts, that then there is no more pain, but only love. The pain of longing pleases me because it shows me how much I love you. But let me now wish you a good morning and tell you how much I need you, I miss and love you. Have a nice day with a lightness that only love can bring. Let me kiss you again before I start my work.

6:04pm

She: Hello darling, how are you? I hope your cold left you in peace. I'm fine and I missed you a lot, but I'm online now to talk to you.

Me: Hello darling, I've been waiting for this moment all day and I'm glad he's here now. Coughing and runny nose, by the way, something I have not had for years, bothering a bit. But the only thing that matters is that you are here now.

She: I'm really sad to know that you do not feel well, my dear. I do not want to see you ill.

Me: Do not be sad, it is not an important thing, we tell in German that the cold comes 3 days, 3 days stays and 3 days goes. She is just a little troublemaker.

She: Okay, my dear, but tell me what your day was like.

Me: My days are actually all the same. I think of you a lot, try to work, build something for our future and enjoy every moment, because it brings me closer to the day until we see each other. I'm relatively free and do not have to go to school like you. But how was your day?

She: My day today is like every other day I went to school and now I'm in the internet café to talk to you.

Me: Ok, our days will change when we're together, every day will be different, bring something new and never get boring.

She: Okay, my dear.

She: My dear, the manager waved me to tell me what I owe him.

Me: I have spoken to some people in recent days, especially those who owe me money. Currently I'm waiting for over 500 euros. There was nothing in my account this afternoon. So tomorrow I will try to visit her in person.

She: Okay, do not worry, my dear. I will say that to the manager.

Me: I'm not worried because everything is going the way it should, but I'm sad because I help so many, including my place of residence and if I want something, or if I want them to pay their debts, let me stand in the rain.

She: My dear, you are a good and just man, so I do not blame you, on the contrary, I am very proud of you.

Me: I always try my best, sometimes I even give my food to somebody because he has not eaten for days and then I have nothing to eat myself, but that does not bother me because I've chosen poverty for myself, but I'm sad you have to wait. The manager does not matter to me, because he is not an honest person. I even think I could set up an internet connection for you, but it's only 2 months before you finish your studies. It will be more important for you and me to get a plane ticket.

She: Yes, my dear, that's why I'm not worried, because I know that after those two months, I'll be with you, my love, and nothing can ever separate us. So when the manager asks me, I tell him to calm down, in a few days he gets his money.

Me: I have to wait, so unfortunately you have to wait and that's why the manager has to wait. He should get his money as soon as possible. If he wants, he can talk to me too. Tell him I am like a mirror, I never condemn, but I can always do what he does us, good or less well. His bill is to high, but no matter. If he causes to much trouble, I make sure he does not get anything.

She: Do not worry, my dear, because I talked to him this morning before I went to school.

Me: I'm not worried, sweetheart, but in life I've learned to answer or respond to anything. I know enough ways to help you, no matter what. In case of a serious illness, I could let you fly to Germany if you were imprisoned, I would send people to get you out of jail, or I could get high-ranking police to do what I want. I know what and how it goes in countries like Ivory Cost, Ghana, Gambia or Pakistan, Sri Lanka and maybe even China, and I have the right answers. I have already told you that I promise nothing that I can not keep, and besides the worldly ways there are also those in the spiritual realm. But I just want to live in peace with you and invest my energy in our love and fight no one.

She: I will never leave you, no matter what the future brings, you have to know that my love is faithful and yours alone.

Me: I love you and I will always love you, protect you, and try to make you happy.

She: Believe me, if I tell you I'll never leave you, because you're to much for me, because you mean everything to me.

Me: What makes you think that I could doubt you, that I think you would leave me? I will be the happiest man when you are happy. I will always try to make you happy with my love, I trust and love unconditionally. I would get a snowball out of hell for you if that was necessary. Do not be afraid darling.

She: Okay, do not worry, my love, I believe you and I know you can never see me suffer.

Me: I will always do everything so that you do not have to suffer. If someone tries to make you suffer, ..... I do not want to write that to a tender and loving being like you. I want you to always see my loving side, that you feel my love and you are safe, I will never stop feeding your love over and over again so that it stays with me. I will pay attention to you again and again.

She: I have committed myself to you forever. Life is not easy, I know, but together we can overcome all difficulties by accepting bad times as good, hoping, praying and doing our best to love and care for one another.

Me: Living with you and your love at my side will make life a breeze, you will be happy, despite all the problems and difficulties, be able to live, not have to think about it. Just think about where you want to live with me and if your passport is still valid long enough for me to get you quickly after your internship. I would like to celebrate my next birthday together with you a love celebration.

She: It is that our love never goes wrong, because I love you and cherish you so much, in the heart of our relationship there is a respect and a deep love between us that can only strengthen and beautify our love every day, if the will exists between us.

Me: My love for you is infinite, it is pure, immaculate and unconditional. I can not and do not want to capture your love, but do everything that she always willingly stays with me and I want to live with you by the sea, because I know that you like to be on the beach. I also want to live with you in a warm climate, so that you never have to hide your beauty because of the cold too much. But I will always show you the necessary respect and never ask for something you do not want to give yourself.

She: I want to share my secrets with you and be sincere with you, understand and respect you, accept you as you are, find protection in you when I'm scared, and hold you tight when I need warmth you in all seasons, walking with you in the sun, and cuddling in cold weather. I want to take care of you when you are sick, and be happy with you when you are happy. I want to grow old with you and be with you for the rest of the time.

Me: I will be happy like a little child when I discover one secret after another, but your secrets will be safe with me. If you're with me, you'll find very quickly that there's nothing to fear, you'll find out I'll try to get your secrets out of you with lots of little sweet tricks, but accept it if you're not ready for it. I will not ask for anything but be grateful and at the same time I will always try to give you everything that you think you need. I am affectionate, peaceful and open to the whole world, but also strict when it challenges the world. Only with you I will never be strict, because you are pure love.

She: I just want all these things with you. I will always want to have you with me. I will always want to have you by my side, whatever life has in store for us to share with you all my dreams, all my hopes and all my needs. Whether I'm trying to sort out my confused ideas, or whether I'm constantly upset about the same, I hope you'll be with me every winter, every summer, every spring and every fall, when things are right or if they are to be wrong.

Me: If you want it that way, it will happen, there are no confused ideas, every success, every invention starts with a confused idea. For me there is no wrong or right, because that would be a judgment. I will never judge you. I will try to find out what you like and what you do not like. I will also show you what I like and what I do not like. But I will never judge in good or bad. We can always try to do our best and if we do it with love, everything will be perfect. Do you know and do you like the Maldives?

She: No, my dear, I do not know the Maldives, but I would like to know more what it is?

Me: The Maldives is an archipelago in the Indian Ocean with many small uninhabited islands.

Me: I think we can find a nice one among 1200 islands. Temperatur between 26 to 31 Grad Celsius, year-round, in the month between 2 and 7 rainy days.

Me: I think it's time to wish you a good night, and I will be with you tonight, with my love, my energy, my dreams, protecting you, whispering love messages in your ear, admiring your beauty in the moonlight and I am consumed with longing. Sleep well and protect my angel, even this night that is passing brings us closer to the time of our meeting. I love you.

9:13 am

Me: Good morning sweetheart, I have a restless night behind me, but that has little to do with my cold. Despite your hugs and kisses, which have done me good, my thoughts always wandered to the end of August and beginning of September. You want to leave the Ivory Coast at the end of the internship to be with me. I also want you to be with me before my birthday. I have a friend who has good contacts with airlines, which allows us to get flights very cheaply. The sooner I request flights and make reservations, the cheaper it will be for us. But I should know where our trip is going, and I would need a copy of your passport. We can and will talk about it later. Now I wish for the first time that you have a brief thought of me with a smile that I send, with a smile, and start the day in a happy mood. When you come out of the shower, I stand with a towel next to it and lead you to the covered breakfast table. Then I will hug and kiss you, so we have almost everything you need for a nice and successful day. I love you.

She: Hello my dear, I can tell you that I also had a restless night while thinking of you, and I will always want to have you with me, because days without you would mean nothing. We share the good and bad times when we are happy and unhappy, from our clumsiness, we make mistakes, we are cheated, we are stupid, but we will always keep the course together, and I will stay by your side, no matter what happens forever. I think of all the wonderful gifts I want to give you. I could offer you the world and its riches, but none of that would ever equal the price you have in my sight and now I will be with you, it makes me so happy.

Me: I'm glad you're here, because those are the moments that matter and what I'm waiting for every day. What would a day be without you? It would be a useless day, because with your love you make the day a special gift for me. At the end of August we have a great opportunity to realize many of our dreams, so tell me which country you want to live in.

Me: I think that you are busy. That's why I'll retire a bit into meditation and be back by 2pm. have a successful day and see you later. I love you.

She: Hello my love, I'm online, how are you, I was not busy, I have no internet connection.

Me: Hello my beloved unknown. Nice that you're there.

She: What are you doing now, after completing your meditation?

Me: After my meditation, I have worked again and tried to reach people, also because of us. I can be very persistent, if need be. And in between I compare the fares of Abidjan with different countries.

She: Okay, my dear, that's wonderful, but I want you to think about what I told you yesterday?

Me: I think a lot about everything you have said to me, about your love, your promises, your trust, our cooperation, your problems, your manager, you want to know more about the Maldives.

She: Yes, I would like to, but right now I want to solve the problem with the manager to get it out of my head.

Me: Of course you would like to have clarified the problem with the manager and I promised you that I would do my best. 265 euros are not really much (even if the bill is still to high), but I am currently dependent on others, because of this sum. Of course, I can try to remedy this problem through the French or German embassy, and I have offered to talk to the manager to find an agreement. At the moment I have no money in my pocket and in the wait until then I can already plan other things. For example, To reserve plane tickets because I get good rates and can pay them later.

She: But my dear, he wants me to give him a date because I promised to give him his money at the end of the month. And now I do not do that, I'm ashamed.

Me: Of course he wants to have the money, he has to pay his bills to, I understand everything. I also want the people who owe me money pay me to solve your problem. But what should I do except try everything. Your manager gets his money, I said it's not really much and if the manager does not trust you he can talk to me. When I pull in the embassy, they ask the manager questions he may not want to hear.

She: Ok, do not worry, I'll wait for you until you're able to pay that debt, I'll try to argue with him as I've been doing for a few days.

Me: Unfortunately I can not give you a fixed date at the moment and I'm trying to get a much higher sum than the peanuts for the manager. He likes to talk to me and I will try to make a peaceful deal with him, but he should not give you any pressure or trouble because I would be very sensitive to it and act accordingly. What none of us three really want.

She: I understand you, my love, and I do not worry if you talk to me because I trust you.

Me: You can always trust me, and you never have to worry about me or about us, or even be afraid. And whoever tries to do something bad to you, has or gets a big problem with me. For some, I can also be a nightmare. But never with you. Would you like to tell me now in which country we should live in 2 months?

She: I want to follow you wherever you go because I have no set goal and with you I'll go to the end of the world if I have to.

Me: And what about your grandmother? I would like to reserve the flights for the beginning of September and prepare the visa if necessary.

She: My dear, I have not told her that yet, so I wish you would not rush to fast.

Me: Well, I understand that when your internship ends in late August, we can live together and you do not want to live in Ivory Cost. For me it is not a problem to be with you and I think that it is possible that I am already with you in Ivory Coast to take a vacation and to get to know me better. Building a new life in another country is hard and time consuming if you are not rich. And I want to make it fast, so I have more time for you.

Wednesday 00:18am

Me: In the darkness of the night a light of love shines. If it's our light, it's us. I've been in the worldly darkness far to long to see the light remotely, now that it's within reach. We both decided we were both alone for far to long, why should we waste more time now to suffer from the yearning. I still do not understand why I do not have a picture of you yet, but I respected it. You keep telling me that you want to be with me quickly, and now that it's probably possible, it's going to fast. I know no mistrust and no doubt when I have decided. I spend hours watching videos about the area you live in, the people who live there and ask every woman I see there if that's what you could be. I told you that sometimes I can be like a small, curious, impatient boy. You got me out of my monastic life, do not send me back there now. I love you, more than anything, please trust me and do not be afraid. Now sleep with the knowledge that I love you, I'll look at you tonight and protect you. I love you.

9:14 am

Me: A beautiful good morning, sweetheart. I meditated a long time last night. A few days ago, I said the dark clouds are announcing about us. You know that I am a spiritual person, which has nothing to do with religion now. I often have visions that are much more than hunches. I see things coming early enough to respond and not let them come true. I've seen something that can jeopardize our love and our beginning relationship if we do not do anything about it. I want and need to be with you and know who you really are to avert this danger. It is no longer a matter of patience, faith and trust or what surprises you have come up with for me. Only with your physical presence and all my spiritual abilities can I successfully change a karma destiny.

Think carefully about my words, but do not forget that our time is running out. Despite the threatening dark clouds, I want you to feel embraced by me and to carry you my love safely through the day. I love you

9:56 pm

Me: A day that comes to an end with an even stronger yearning. It seems to me as if this day had no sun for me, no air to breathe, like a useless day, but even that day has brought me closer to you, has taught me patience. I miss and I love you. Have a nice evening and a wonderful night.

Thursday 5:29pm

She: Hello my love, what are you doing with me? I'm not feeling well and I could not connect yesterday, I have to go to the internet cafe to talk to you, but I did not have time, but I'm here now and I've seen your message that our love is in danger and I do not know what to do. Tell me what is going on.

Me: Hello honey, nice that you are there. Why are you not feeling well? What's happening. I do not know for sure what it is. I think that catching up with us or one of us from the past. I to have my past. But I feel that we can only overcome it together, together, not in a long-distance relationship. I do not know yet what it is. I meditate a lot to find out, but it's still in the dark.

She: I still do not understand what you want to tell me about the threat to us, and it worries me.

Me: I know that you do not understand it. I have learned to pay attention to clues that reach me on a spiritual level. I know that it is or will be important for us, that we are fast together. If we are, nothing is likely to happen and everything will be well and happy. If we wait to long, something can happen, which gives us a relatively long wait. The time has come for us to come together so we should not hesitate. Even if you are maybe to fast.

She: I'm worried about my love and I want to know what I have to do to not lose you because you are my husband and the love of my life.

Me: Just allow me to be with you quickly, no matter if you talked to your grandmother and wherever or in which country. Maybe it would be good if I had your e-mail address, a street name in the mailing address, a telephone number. Maybe there is something else I should know?

9:48 pm

Me: Darling, I think you will not come online today. I want to wish you a nice night. Fear not and trust me. We have not been shown the heaven that he is now denied us. I will always find out in good time what to do. So sleep well and dream sweetly. My love and my energy are with you. The light of pure love is always with us. Just fall into my arms, they will always be able to hold you. Feel my kisses and hugs, take all the strength you need. I love you and will be with you soon if you let me. I love you.

Friday 08:04am

Me: I watch you from afar while you sleep. Lying on one side, one leg bent, hugging the pillow and a smile on your face. I could watch you for hours, but unfortunately I have to do something. I wish you a beautiful awakening, with joy and good spirits that will accompany you throughout the day. Feel hugged and kissed. Good Morning my sweetheart.

9:32 pm

She: Good evening my love how are you, I'm not feeling well and I think you know why, if I'm not online as I want, it's because I have no internet connection at home and it bothers me to go to the internet cafe, because I'm not used to it, I think the only problem here is the internet connection, you not think so?

Me: Hello honey, of course it is uncomfortable to go to the internet cafe. Your manager is having trouble, let's see what I can do. Unfortunately, is missing at your address you have given me a street name, or am I wrong? If I had that, I might be able to arrange something with an internet service provider that will quickly connect you to a reasonable and honest price. I can not pay a few bills at the moment too because to many people hang me. How much is the Internet Cafe? 4 hours 1 dollar or so?

She: The price of the internet cafe is not a problem, it is the fact to go there. I can not go to the internet cafe anymore, I have to be home to be able to talk to you in peace and take care of my grandmother The problem here is debt that I have to pay and I want to pay. I'll give you my details if you're sure you can help me pay those debts because the time I've spent is largely over.

Me: I can not give you a fixed date because I do not know a fixed date. I can not set up an internet connection at your home if I do not know your full address. Without the address, I can not even try to get a guarantee for the internet costs, about the embassy, for your manager, this would also require the manager's account and account number, the manager should be able to present these two things , GrandBassam has over 80,000 inhabitants, although I know that you are somewhere near the RUE DU COMMERCE.

Me: Your manager should write me an e-mail with invoice and account number.

End

I think this conversation is over now. She has not reported for several days.

I hope you enjoyed this conversation and also make you think. That maybe it helps, so that you will not be a victim or you can prevent someone from falling for something like that.
